The title is a variation of a popular song which has now become a bitter reality. Heinous murderers and war criminals Tony Blair and Hillary Clinton, the latter not charged for a serious though clearly illegal offence, while the former is a (guilty) war criminal, have BOTH evaded legal prosecution, though their guilt reeks to high heaven.

Tony Blair

If the global population does not DEMAND that JUSTICE is served the criminal elites that arranged that these two criminals remain at arms length of prosecution will continue to devastate OUR WORLD -- it really is time to ensure that no-one, especially those in 'high' office evade the law. If we fail to act in the face of these BLATANT grotesque crimes committed by the 'untouchable' class, then there will be hell to pay.

There's nothing more that needs be said. ACTION is required not more commentary and words! WE simply have no choice but to take back OUR world -- there are numerous ways to skin a cat when faced with a reluctant and corrupt system.
