

Chilcot Inquiry -- An Embarrassment

by darcy Sunday, Jul 10 2016, 10:51am

international / prose / post

The very thin, translucent veil attempting to hide massive political fraud, treachery and crime has been perforated by the Chilcot Inquiry and subsequent DAMNING Report. Anyone that reads it easily CONCLUDES that Bush, Blair, Howard of Australia and their respective administrations lied through their teeth, yet no-one has the balls to state it plainly. Furthermore, it is clear that these three CRIMINAL leaders were following a pre-planned agenda and worked in concert as the 'Coalition of the Willing,' which of course indicates an orchestrated conspiracy.

Blair receiving and 'honour' from Bush

Another absolutely appalling feature of the Report, especially Blair's memos to Bush, is the CALLOUS DISREGARD these leaders had for innocent lives and the consequences of their heinous actions; yet these three men remain free and mock the values we all hold dear. Blair and that little gutless, servile "rodent" Howard, as he was called by others in parliament at the time, have the gall to say it's not a matter of overt LIES but of bad intelligence -- well I'm sure that intel agencies staffed by persons of integrity would have something to say about those pathetic claims, Mesuriers Howard, Blair and Bush.

Today the world faces chaos and instability as a direct result of the actions of these men and the nefarious interests they served. And again, officials refuse to call a spade a spade or state plainly that the 'sky is blue and blood is red' -- the proper consequences of a GENUINE inquiry exposing the largest political scandal and fraud perpetrated this century is, LEGAL ACTION for WAR CRIMES and a host of other legal breaches pertaining to government LAW; however, we see only a civilian class action against Blair instituted by the relatives of British soldiers that died and were horribly wounded due to a lack of proper preparation and insufficient resources. But do these leaders care? Not in the least, they continue to LIE though every lie that proceeds out of their mouths TODAY fails to convince even the most demented ill-informed citizen.

The UK has failed itself and other involved nations that fail to indict their former leaders are no better. The elite owned mass media is also tip-toeing around the stark, flagrantly obvious TRUTH -- Bush, Blair, Howard and others are WAR CRIMINALS and dangerous psychopaths that MUST be held to ACCOUNT.

Until real legal action follows the damning report the entire costly inquiry would go down in history as a ruse, one designed to hide the TRUTH in plain sight! Well, this time it simply will not succeed! Clearly, action is now required. Respective national populations would now view with attentive gaze the machinations and avoidance tactics of today's LYING politicians that serve the exact same interests that Blair, Howard and Bush served. Who do these faceless, mass murdering cowards and their political puppets think they are kidding?

Blair and obsequious Howard

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2291.html>