

Stop Griping and Engage

by stella Wednesday, Aug 3 2016, 1:04am

international / prose / post

The world is in the throes of total denial and avoidance, excuse-making today has become a plague. However, the FACT remains, in DEMOCRATIC societies the MAJORITY should rule, so why is that not the case? Simple, WE acquiesce rather than ACT! I've heard all the lame excuses, "it's no use so why bother," distills most of them, why bother, indeed?

Do not complain if YOU passively accept your thoroughly corrupt and criminal leaders, do not complain if you consume the 'news,' which is nothing short of contrived fabrications/propaganda, and do not complain if you are so easily distracted by titillation. So, to confront the horrid prevailing reality it is incumbent on every person to engage the political process and REALITY, by that I do not mean be subservient to the obviously corrupt two-party adversarial charade.

We deserve our criminal rulers, harsh treatment and the system as it stands; our rulers clearly serve minority vested interests, our rulers reflect our lack of character as they are ALSO servants but go one further, they oppress and disregard the MAJORITY. Have any one of you voted for nuclear war, which is being pursued by the criminal elite class that owns our politicians? NO, I would think, yet that is precisely where the western world is headed, for a major confrontation with China and Russia. The LIES fed to the public on a 24 hour basis are gross and clearly transparent, the evil elites are following their published agenda, "Full Spectrum Dominance" and "Pax Americana," which are only two insane doctrinal stances of a clearly psychopathic group known as the 'neocons,' which group remains the major controlling influence in Washington regardless of which party is in government. Yet have their clearly insane policies been addressed and replaced by sane approaches, NO! Who is at fault here, the lunatics that maintain their grip on Washington or the apathetic MASSES? A rhetorical question, as it is clearly OUR responsibility to ensure that our nations remain law abiding, moral and uphold all the civilised ideals our forefathers fought and died for. So what do we do with the ultimate gift our fathers died and suffered to give us? Cast it aside, disregard OUR responsibility and allow ourselves to be led by criminals and murderers -- FREEDOM is only a word today!

What a truly sorry, degenerate society we have become, due mainly to our disconnect, narcissism and lack of COURAGE.

Well, people, if we fail to act, self-interested others will act in our absence and so the world is as it is TODAY and becoming more unstable and destructive by the minute. Time is short as waking at the last minute is far too late, as this evil spreads like a ravenous plague at frightening speed. Have YOU noticed? "Perpetual war" is another completely insane (published) doctrinal stance this psychopathic elite minority pursues, but do YOU?

Need I say, change begins with the individual before it becomes a social force, but then, "it's no use so why bother," and that dear readers is the formula that guarantees utter ruin, personal and social. We always have our griping and blame game to play, which conveniently suits the powers we have allowed to steer us to destruction. A 'fine' record we leave posterity, if indeed history survives us!

