

Rudd vs Turnbull -- clash of the pathological Narcissists

We all know what Rudd is capable of, he excels if offended in subversion, and Turnbull would be very lucky indeed if Rudd restrained his wrath over Turnbull refusing to allow Rudd to compete for UN leadership -- notwithstanding Rudd has no chance and therein lies Turnbull's huge folly.

Rudd now believes that Turnbull alone is responsible for foiling his bid and Rudd is what he is, a vengeful, pathological, destructive personality. However, had Turnbull shown good political sense, which he is incapable of (now proven) he would have allowed nature to take its course as Rudd has no hope of succeeding in his bid to lead the UN, plain to see. However, political and tactical dunce Turnbull, who has never made a correct move as PM, is true to his inept form, he unnecessarily involved himself with a person that could cause him MAJOR grief.

Both Rudd and Turnbull suffer from NPD, which makes a potential conflict highly likely as NPD sufferers are known for their hyper inflated opinion of themselves and lack of empathy or CONNECT with/for others, so it may indeed come to pass that hell hath no fury like an offended narcissist -- we shall see.
