

The Turning Point

Indeed, if history -- not news/propaganda -- is to be our guide then it is clear the globe now faces tumultuous social change. The old established elite 'order' has failed miserably to maintain the master-slave model -- plain to see. The result of course is what it has always been, social upheaval and persistent opposition to the corruption and machinations (control of our governments) by minority ruling elites.

WE, the global population, have reached an historic turning point, as history clearly highlights and it will end in either the world as we know it or the end of a clearly insane, mass murdering elite, do not kid yourselves or be led by the mass media, this is crisis time, which of course is OPPORTUNITY TIME!

What that reality spells, if the lessons of history are not learned, is bloodshed on a massive scale, as the elite, when faced with non-survival, always plunge the world into war. But we should never despair or passively accept that outcome as inevitable, as it is not. The masses today, need no leadership, as they have been pushed beyond the brink and are clearly retaliating of their own accord all around the world; indeed, it is over for either freedom or the mega-wealthy criminal elite. Make your choice, as passively sitting back is a choice in favour of elites. Literal 'freedom or death' is what the current turning point clearly spells out. We shall see which option the world takes.

I offer no advice, as leaders are enslaved by those they serve and followers are clearly enslaved by their leaders. THE CHOICE IS YOURS TO TAKE ALONE, so chose wisely and be prepared for a horrendous period in world history. I would of course choose peace and jail for the corrupt criminal (proven) minority that are responsible for ALL the wars and economic chaos we are experiencing TODAY. And don't be swept up in misplaced fervour and hysteria, elite servant (Clinton) or demagogue Trump are NOT solutions -- FREEDOM from the elite agenda/status quo is the ONLY VIABLE solution. That is not advice it is fact borne out numerous times by history. The GLOBAL threat we face today affects everyone and given the current social circumstances it is better to take positive action than passively accept a known outcome.
