Which mission was that, anyone could ask, as all America has accomplished is one disaster after another since it began its criminal push to militarily control the world (fat chance)? Yet not one lying neocon war criminal has been held to account for the needless millions of innocent war dead -- give the world a break, psychopathic dreamboats!

Remember, the utter crap spouted by neocons about the illegal invasion of Iraq, based on orchestrated LIES. Paul Wolfowitz, demented neocon extraordinaire, told the WORLD that invading Iraq would be a "cakewalk" and the campaign should succeed in "6 weeks," he also said that Iraqis would welcome criminal, foreign invaders with "bouquets of flowers!" And so it went, the world discovered that Americans are stark, raving mad and that the population is a demented bunch of uninformed, moronic, fearful cowards -- who on earth would welcome foreign invaders with flowers when it was plain to see the invasion was nothing but a criminal oil grab on behalf of the oil-petro mega-corporations? What a shameful farce, notwithstanding that killing 500,000 innocent Iraqi children (Bill Clinton's embargos on medical supplies) prior to the invasion, "was worth it," said Mad' Albright to the entire world! This is psychopathology taken to the outer limits; yet what have the people done about reining in the criminal nut cases and holding them accountable? Sweet fuck all!

The only 'mission' America has accomplished is becoming the pariah nation of the world and if it dares to continue on its current aggressive lunatic (PNAC) agenda, well then, it WILL be reduced to ASHES by superpowers Russia and China, which nations, INSANE America is provoking as I write. It's time to check whether the inmates have taken over the asylum people, as everyone else in the world KNOWS they have -- secret kill lists and extra-judicial assassinations (MURDERS), straight out of the Mafia manual on criminal tactics, but again, where is the population when these unavoidable realities confront them daily, why, perving on Kardashian's tits or some other transparent media DISTRACTION -- America is clearly a nation of pea-brains and gutless wonders. I could go on and on but CLEARLY Americans are incapable of lucid thought, let alone constructive remedial action.

So 'it's the end of America as we know it and the world feels fine.' Whether it's a provoked war, economic implosion or some other factor -- the current formula spells utter RUIN, a blind man can see it; but dreamboats, remain transfixed on the media sewage that passes for news in America -- and everything will be 'fine.' Did I mention that two exposed criminals are now competing for the presidency? The choice is between a turd and a vomit. Well, good luck, dreamboats, as the loser will be America, as usual.
