

Non-Sense and Un-Reason

by jill Saturday, Sep 17 2016, 8:08pm

international / prose / post

It was English mystic, poet and prolific writer William Blake who drew attention to a peculiar dichotomy in the human species, one actually known throughout the ages, but by numerous other names/representations; Mary Shelley drawing on the inspiration provided by Blake's dichotomy, Sense and Reason, extended it in her age and wrote Frankenstein, which incorporated a cultural element.

However, 'there is nothing new under the sun' as a little research reveals similar dichotomies throughout ancient cultures. For instance, the Hindu God Siva represents the chaotic/destructive principle while Vishnu represents order and preservation; the ancient Greeks have a similar representation in Dionysus and Apollo. I would add here that ancient Gods represent various human characteristics and have nothing whatsoever to do with external 'divine' beings -- take note readers, the same applies today, as man has created all the religions and Gods, approximately ten thousand (10,000) 'Gods' since recorded history. So we are left to confront ourselves and take responsibility for our lives and every other factor associated with existence, like the environment and culture, which today is responsible for all needless wars based on avarice, greed and overt criminality -- America leads the world in this respect.

Today the pendulum swings to un-Reason/chaos, which has become a gigantic dilemma for the species, as it now approaches numerous crises that threaten the very tenability of our species on the planet. However, these crises are not of external origin, man has created all of them and is sufficiently armed and able to end our and numerous other species' tenure on this planet, though the planet would spontaneously propel another species to consciousness, it's the way it goes in existence, universal consciousness 'pushes/expresses' it's creation into Self-awareness and if that process fails, the species self-destructs, as is occurring today.

It is a matter of public record that the USA supports, arms and trains 'terrorists,' its proxy fighters, which it then uses for political purposes, like illegal 'regime change' wars and the resource pillaging of other weaker nations; even the totally corrupt American mass media has published accounts of this diabolical relationship between the State and the terrorists it creates for very express purposes, and they are, to list a few: to contain/oppress local western populations and to illegally, militarily invade other resource rich nations, topple opposing governments and leaders and overtly steal their resources for the corporate/banker interests that own and rule Washington, plain to see and easily verified with the least research effort.

The American State does this openly in plain sight while pretending to fight the terrorists it created, armed and trained, a criminal farce of monstrous, tragic proportions for the entire world. We have direct proof in the form of Hillary Clinton, who actually delighted and chuckled, on air, over the murder of Gaddafi; she couldn't contain her psychopathic joy, and blurted, "we came, we saw, he died," which criminal intent was clear from the beginning of that illegal, pretextual invasion/bombing by NATO and fledgling ISIS. Of course Clinton's open revelation admits complicity/guilt of the crime by the American State, something Clinton gloated over, the woman is CLEARLY a psychopath and today she is vying for the leadership of the United States, when it is clear she should be standing trial for her numerous crimes, which I would add are a matter of public record. But she's the chosen one. So it becomes tragically evident that the species has lost its way, the American people are the obvious example as they accept overt psychopathic criminals like Clinton, but also, the rest of the 'civilised' world has failed to hold the American State and the KNOWN criminals that run it, to account.

So what does the above and the numerous other injustices and CRIMES committed daily by the USA and its allies, suggest to you? Where do YOU imagine this ends for humanity? The entire western world chooses to ignore the overt crimes of American psychopaths and so America is now planning a pre-emptive, NUCLEAR strike on other superpowers, which of course would have dire consequences for the entire planet, notwithstanding that America, Western Europe and the capital cities of Australia would be reduced to ashes; very few nations would remain unharmed by a war between superpowers, which mind-numbed Australia has allowed to be conducted from its shores for no good reason.

Meanwhile the masses remain in denial or blissful ignorance; not a peep or the slightest remedial action from humanity whose very existence is NOW threatened by a tiny minority of American lunatics and their servants known as the neocons -- Clinton and other presidents/leaders are merely errand boys/girls, which verifiable fact Hillary has openly admitted during a speech at the CFR.

Wouldn't Mary Shelley have a field-day today? Yet there is always hope for humanity if it chooses to act, but clearly, there is NO HOPE for America.

Psychopath 'Killary,' gloating, laughing and openly admitting US complicity and GUILT in grossly illegal murder of Gaddafi. We should not forget that this war was sold to the western public as a 'humanitarian' war to protect civilians -- Libya today is a violent failed state as per usual interventionist Pentagon formula. Corporate wars of resource theft will only cease when the masses act to end them -- or are you happy to allow obvious sociopaths and thieving, mass murdering, selfish rogues to run the country?

<http://www.theaustralian.com.au/higher-education/frank-fenner-sees-no-hope-for-humans/story-e6frgcyj-1225880091722>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2359.html>