

Parochial Aussies Living in Their own Private Dubbo

by stan Thursday, Sep 22 2016, 9:53pm

international / prose / post

A recent poll -- which the pollster repeated, as the results were astonishing -- indicates that 49% of media pliable Aussies support a complete ban on Muslim migration. Yet our spineless lackey politicians have been ordered by the US to accept 'refugees,' from ultra-violent central American nations, as the US clearly does not want a bar of these migrants -- and for very good reason.

'Braveheart' Turnbull

Central American nations are the most violent nations on earth, torn apart by gang violence organised crime and corrupt governments. The result of course is ultra-violent cultures, which produce ultra-violent populations, which know nothing but kill or be killed survival standards.

However, America is the desired destination of most Latin American 'refugees' fleeing, extreme poverty, constant murder, intimidation and social deprivation in central America. The so-called refugees that arrive in the USA from central American nations immediately form gangs, which are known for their merciless extreme violence and criminal pursuits -- and that in a gun-happy, violent, American culture.

If the 49% of moron Aussies easily duped by mass media propaganda techniques imagine that closing the door on Muslim migrants and allowing central American 'refugees' to enter the nation would be a better option they are clearly out of touch with reality.

Oz has about half a million Muslims in a mixed population of 23 million, and only a tiny fraction of those are considered radical and violent, whereas the vast majority, through no fault of their own, of central American 'refugees' are extremely violent and are predisposed to criminal enterprises. Do some research, you dumb, Anglo Aussie fucks! The BBC has covered these gangs in a series of the world's most violent gangs, and what a sobering experience it would be if the series were broadcast nationally, as then knee-walking conservative and other politicians would be exposed as the gutless, servile lackeys they truly are. Anything you say, boss Washington; hang your pathetic, miserable head in shame MALCOLM TURNBULL, you useless, subservient, spineless shit!

While our major party politicians may remain subservient to criminal Washington and continue to engage in clearly criminal wars, I have real news! If Australian citizens are pushed too far, they would sort both the major parties and any social problems that arise from government idiocy -- so give it a go, Malcolm or Bill, and expose your throats to the new migrants and to a population that has had enough of spineless, thoroughly INCOMPETENT antics from Canberra. The political cost of evermore incompetence and supine gesturing to the USA would be severe if not act as a completely transformative force on the Oz political landscape -- take note major parties!

In fact, I welcome more idiocy from our spineless leaders, as it is clear the only way to transform Oz society is with extreme shock, self-inflicted or otherwise brought about, you brain-dead, easily manipulated, mindless Aussie morons!

The option of closing the door to a manageable group of migrants and confronting Oz with the extreme daily violence from 'refugees' from central America, would traumatise this very insular coddled nation, notwithstanding the fact that our regulatory agencies and police would be overwhelmed, as these central American Latin migrants take delight in killing police and other government officials that threaten their existence/criminal enterprises. Only Australia's obsequious (to Washington) politicians would even entertain such an absurd notion. But what choice do spineless, knee-walking major politicians have -- deluxe knee-pads, anyone?

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2362.html>