

The Disenfranchised Western Masses

Now, try and name a western government anywhere in the world that represents the interests of the masses -- good luck as the answer is none. All western governments follow the dictates of a tiny -- less than 1% -- unrepresentative elite that are responsible for ALL the chaos, mayhem and climate destabilisation in the world today.

Since the banker/corporate elite-captured USA embarked on its world domination agenda (PNAC) by destabilising and then eliminating sovereign nations/leaders opposed to American hegemony, the world has seen nothing but mass destruction, mass murder and chaos not seen since WWII. Now consider the (militaristic) American approach. Any nation targeted by Washington is first demonised and its democratically elected leader vilified. Fifth column forces are then utilised to disrupt and plunge that nation into turmoil a la former Yugoslavia (then Libya and Syria) notwithstanding that Iraq and Afghanistan were illegally invaded on the most transparent of pretexts and blatant lies. Then, in order to 'save' that intentionally destabilised nation/peoples the same forces behind its destabilisation install Washington compliant 'governments' that allow a free hand to further killing of any force opposing the take-over and allow the nation's wealth, resource or otherwise, to be pillaged by large corporations. The result is a once stable wealthy nation and its people are lost to gangsters of the vilest murdering kind. Simply take a good look at every nation the US and its vassal 'allies' have interfered with and prove the above for yourself.

Of course there are consequences for all actions, the most notable in America's case is the ruining of once stable nations and the subsequent effects, namely, huge refugee problems and the ongoing mass murder of evermore innocents as a result of US proxy fighting groups engaging nationalist forces. Now consider the causative factors of these huge international crimes and the flow-on effects. The USA and the elite forces that control it have created massive problems but want no part in attempting to solve the horrendous consequences of their actions and clean up the messes they create. So existing compliant western vassal States already captured by the economic forces that also control the USA, are ordered to accept millions of refugees and then participate in the illegal wars and other illegal activities pursued by the USA. Sounds too absurd and surreal to be REAL but REALITY is staring the entire world in the face on a daily basis and a little investigation reveals all the above and many more sordid details.

Now, compliant western governments necessarily must kowtow to the forces that control them and hence no representation whatsoever for the people. Now, again, try and name just ONE western government that represents the majority, not a rapacious, criminal, debt-enslaving elite minority.

It is no longer necessary to detail all the subterfuge and other methods of control (most notably mass media) that the evil elite utilise for 'crowd management,' as the western masses have become aware of one essential stark reality, that their elected governments no longer represent their wishes or interests -- plain to see everywhere in the western world.

Elite forces are in fact creating the social dynamics and forces that will eventually and inevitably destroy them, however, power intoxicates/corrupts and they are blind to the consequences of their actions, which amounts to the strongest and most under-utilised weapon against continued rule by a clearly psychopathic, greedy beyond measure, mass murdering elite.

The swing away from captured and OWNED major parties in western nations increases by the day for very good reason, today's leaders are clearly the worst and most incompetent the world has ever seen simply because puppets/servants do NOT make real LEADERS -- and surely that's no surprise, so prepare and PARTICIPATE in the inevitable outcome.

The restoration of real REPRESENTATIVE democracy and real FREEDOM, which includes the elimination of engineered debt-slavery, pan-surveillance and the cessation of needless, destructive, corporate wars is a matter for the currently disillusioned and disenfranchised MAJORITY, which are propelled by the consequential mindless pursuit of power and wealth by a blind tiny minority. The evil elite have created a social dynamic which is now clearly in motion in all western nations. We cannot thank them enough for their blind folly and doing all the heavy lifting!
