The Limited Nuclear War FANTASY

The USA has recently been conducting bombing tests in the Nevada desert with dummy nukes but not dummy B-2 'stealth' (visible to Russia and China) bombers. But why conduct tests when a nuclear war would be 30 minutes of absolute, all out chaos and unprecedented destruction resulting in the end of human civilisation?

If anything could be learned from world war history one thing stands out above all else, military bungling on a huge scale, atrocious preparation and planning and monumentally bad decisions which needlessly cost the lives of millions of rank and file soldiers, or 'cannon fodder,' as is now known to be the case.

Now consider that these wars were waged with primitive weapons, which allowed room for monumental errors on both sides, as was indeed the case on land, sea and in the air. But not so today, any nuclear strike would immediately be followed by all out retaliatory strikes, as the attacked side could not afford to gamble with the highly unlikely possibility of only a single pre-emptive nuclear strike, regardless of which nation is initially targeted.

Nuclear war between superpowers would not be a drawn out process, it would be almost instantaneous, an all or nothing process which would be over within 30mins-1hour. You see, no room for errors or another attempt! Which simply means that all human errors of judgement would occur in minutes, no second chances or forgiving circumstances like previous wars. The inference being that the greatest unforgiving error would in fact be launching a nuclear strike in the first instance, pre-emptive or otherwise, as it would invite a complete retaliatory response. Are you able to see or exercise simply logic? Probably not, as the neocon lunatics that control Washington believe that such a war could be won, when no experience of such a war is available for analysis or assessment. Nuclear war would be a first, and what we already know about previous world wars, it means that nuclear war would be a catastrophe beyond measure or comprehension -- forget tests, plans and all other delusions, all such fantasies would go out the window in the first few minutes leaving nothing but chaos to replace delusional fantasies; utter panic would prevail accompanied by the pressing of every nuclear button available on all sides. That is the obvious INSANE REALITY and anyone that seriously entertains the idea that a nuclear war could be 'won' or even waged is CLEARLY insane! Which of course brings me to the point.

The Pentagon, Washington and the military/techno corporations that control same are clearly led by mindless, power or money intoxicated lunatics, and I mean that literally. The first thing that any qualified psychologist or psychiatrist would tell you about lunatics and sociopaths is that they imagine they are infallible and their ideas, no matter how absurd or divorced from simple logic/reality, are sound. Hence, that's what qualifies them as insane! Now try and think for a few seconds, need I continue?

Have a nice delusional day in YOUR media created, ignorant dreamworld, and try hard not to think about saving your life, nation and humanity. When 'it' happens and it surely will, if not immediately remedied, then know that YOU have allowed it ALL to happen. YES, YOU are RESPONSIBLE, not the KNOWN sickos which YOU have allowed to lead you into hell.
