

Russia reveals new 'death ray' Weapon to World

by jess Saturday, Oct 15 2016, 12:20am

international / prose / post

Sensationalist rag, the UK Mirror, has published a story, true to form, of a new microwave weapon developed by Russian slavs -- think Tesla, a Serbian slav -- which has the capability to neutralise any electronically controlled target today and of course almost all modern military equipment, large (naval vessels) and small (fighter/bomber aircraft) including some slower missiles. So is this new development a game changer? Possibly, though it certainly would give Russia a huge advantage in any modern war.

This type of radical development relates to a seminal paper on IT hacking skills, in which it was made clear that a single highly skilled hacker is capable of taking down a modern State, especially a digitally dependent State or superpower, as superpowers are now completely enslaved and dependent on digital technology. We now see what the anonymous author saw decades past. So we suggest the USA maintain its mindless policy of jailing hackers, and disrupting their networks and marginalising same, as that has clearly given China a leading edge, Russia of course is so far ahead of the world in the IT/digital field -- its lead established in the very early days of computing -- that the current gap could never be closed.

We should also note that the elite Israeli hackers that developed Stuxnet were essentially trained by Russian Jews that settled in Israel after completing degree courses in elite Russian universities. The fact is that numerous nations outperform the money blinded USA in the digital field today, not only Israel but also Iran; you see, ingenuity is the progeny of necessity and after decades of US bullying, other nations have developed inexpensive, effective counter-measures -- you supremely dumb, banjo-playing, full of shit, US morons and neocon psychopaths. Give it your best shot, the sooner you blow it the sooner the world is rid of you FOREVER! So yea, Pentagon, launch your pre-emptive strike and see where it gets you and western Europe/Australia etc. There's no second chances in a nuclear conflict, you demented morons -- yay, Hillary OR Trump for pres, as it makes very little difference. Take your pick from the sewer of humanity America, a vile, mass murdering LYING criminal, or a self-inflated pathological dunce!

America's mindless authoritarian police state policies account for America lagging desperately behind other superpowers in crucial fields today. Supremely stupid America focused on pan-surveillance, oppressive regulatory developments and avarice, rather than useful high tech radical developments -- another 'top' decision by the money-obsessed corporate/banker clowns that own the USA!

Almost all hackers are aware that digital technology is a two-edged sword, while it creates hyper social control gadgets, weapons and technologies it also leaves them vulnerable and exploitable as any hacker or real IT expert would inform you. An old hacker adage continues to apply, probably more so today than it did when it was first coined: 'what one man makes [digitally] another can break [hack].'

The seminal paper I referred to above was written long before Assange and other hackers made headlines and though Assange's hacking skills leave a lot to be desired, nevertheless, hacking and IT skills are utilised to the level of his and his associates competence and we have seen the result and continue to see a single individual, Assange, cause havoc, by openly publishing 'secret' hacked material, which continues to disrupt ruling elite plans to install Hillary, their servant, as president -- though her ascendancy is almost assured via the scurrilous elite-owned mass media. Also note that regardless of all other constraining/opposing factors, the USA has computerised voting; you see, a few keystrokes and guess who 'wins?' What a pathetic circus the USA has become, notwithstanding it is already the laughing stock of the entire free thinking, civilised world -- Trump vs Hillary, says it all.

Now to the baseless, delusional bluster of American officials that imagine they lead the world. Take another look! The neocons that control policy in Washington actually believe their own lies and delusions and on that basis have been engaged in constantly provoking Russia and China to the point of a thermonuclear war, which of course the Russian and Chinese alliance would win though that victory could hardly be called a victory, let's just say that continental America would be reduced to ashes and on the basis of population numbers the Chinese and Russians would survive. But as for NATO and other US allies/vassals, it's been very unpleasant knowing you, goodbye!

I leave you all now to engage REALITY, and take back your respective nations before it's too late, as the US and its servile, vassal allies, have imprudently made themselves primary nuclear targets for no good reason. INTENTIONALLY provoking a nuclear war TODAY is clearly insane, especially when the West has absolutely no chance of prevailing. The East/Asia and Africa would inherit the globe.

<https://consortiumnews.com/2016/10/14/the-warnings-of-a-new-world-war/>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2375.html>