So says the US intel community YET AGAIN but this time regarding hacking Hillary's and her associates emails -- though on each previous occasion (Yugoslavia, Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya, Syria) the claims were nothing but orchestrated LIES.

“The U.S. Intelligence Community, led by the three most political actors in recent history, claims to have irrefutable “proof” that the Russian government was behind the hacking of Democratic Party computers and those affiliated with the Hillary Clinton presidential campaign. However, Central Intelligence Agency director John Brennan, Director of National Intelligence James Clapper, and National Security Agency director Admiral Mike Rogers provided not one iota of evidence that it was Russian state players who hacked into the computers of the Democrats or the personal email accounts of Hillary Clinton campaign manager John Podesta and other staffers.” So begins a plausible story by Wayne Madsen available here.

First I would say the ENTIRE WORLD is sick of America's transparent, feeble, compulsive lying, so I will be brief.

If the US intel community and Wall St.-captured Washington possessed irrefutable “proof” of Russia interfering in the American electoral process, notwithstanding the desperate attempts by Hillary to demonise Russia and its democratically elected leader, Mr V Putin, don't YOU think it would bandy that irrefutable “proof” across its entire 'news'/media/propaganda outlets, world wide? Of course it would, as the American elite now detest Russia for short-circuiting their plans in Syria, which foils the ultimate goal for world hegemony.

So to all the corporate-banker puppets in Washington, put up or shut up -- you pathologically LYING HOUNDS.

Furthermore, who is the biggest LIAR running for president of this compulsively lying nation, surely it couldn't be 'under sniper fire' (Sarajevo), the Libyan Benghazi attack, illegal email server, Hillary - impossible? BIG LIES are ROUTINE in the integrity-devoid, USA -- irrefutable “proof,” my arse. Let's SEE it! The world has had enough of your WMD, R2P, 'humanitarian' wars of resource theft and mass murder. Who are you Washington pea-brains trying to kid?
