

The Greatest Presidential Con of ALL TIME

It truly is amazing how easily distracted Americans are. For instance, one of the main criticisms of Trump is that he has no experience in government -- well guess what? Neither did Obama, whose experience was almost zilch. So what becomes of that argument? Exactly, US presidents DO NOT LEAD, they take orders from elite controllers or the 'shadow government,' as it is known. So the 'race' for the presidency is really a race to determine who would better serve the elite, which elite is firmly entrenched in power and has its own agenda, which is never in accord with majority wishes, plain to see if one cares to look past one's media-ringed nose. In other words, the presidential race is a FARCE and has been for decades.

The one time an outsider, JFK, managed to tilt the apparatus, he was rather awkwardly and obviously murdered by insiders that were duty bound to protect the president, what a laugh, but not for those that buck the status quo. Well, history instructs, and not only was JFK taken out, but Bobby and Ted were targeted though the unsuccessful attempt on Teddy served to give him a very clear message so he withdrew into the political background where he remained until his death.

JFK's assassination by the elite in the USA informed the world that no-one that has not been chosen/approved by extremist elite forces is destined to succeed, to the point of assassination if necessary. So is the USA a democracy? Not on your life, it never was, it was founded as a Republic led by a privileged minority that remains in power today, plain to see, if one cares to look.

Hillary was promised the presidency at the Bilderberg gathering many years back in Virginia, conditional to her dropping off and allowing the chosen one, lying puppet Obama, an easy run to the White House. And notice how the global elite and all their servants supported that pretender, a rushed Nobel Peace prize for pete's sake, when Obama had done absolutely nothing to deserve it, but of course he was the chosen one so the elite owned media and every other elite apparatus rushed to support him and sell him to the public as some sort of saviour.

Today the world is able to see or choke on his legacy, perpetual war, millions dead and displaced, corporate pollution out of control etc,. So now we see how the apparatus works, it's ALL A LIE and a CON of monumental proportions, yet the American people continue to fall for the same tired, transparent con, truly amazing from an outside perspective.

Now take note of the last weeks of this presidential race. Has the CFR controlled, elite-owned mass media focused on Hillary's overt lying, gross dishonesty, lack of integrity, CRIMINALITY and obvious psychopathology -- "we came, we saw, he died -- (admitting US culpability, I might add)?" Not a chance, furthermore, the 'honest' puppet FBI exonerated her for obvious crimes against the State. But she is the chosen one and as such would easily ascend to the highest office in the land, as she is already a shameless servant of Wall St and the unrepresentative global elite, which she has openly admitted herself during speeches to elite CFR members -- give me a break regarding an undisguised, elite-serving, criminal, nut case; who, I MUST add, would plunge the world into a nuclear confrontation with Russia and China, already stated by Hillary herself! However, the charade and the appearance of a democratic process must go on; the illusion of freedom must be maintained in order to distract from the real nefarious mass murdering rulers of the world's most powerful nation.

Surely, we should all be able to see the weak link in the process by now; the background boys or shadow government are clearly supreme cowards and NEED OBEDIENT SERVANTS/PUPPETS in order to pursue their agenda and to also act as fall guys. Then if things get difficult they simply orchestrate another scandal or race for the presidency, too easy. And all this is done in plain sight, if one cares to perform a little analyses and historical research.

Now, don't kid yourselves Americans, whichever candidate you vote for the outcome is predetermined/assured, as the US utilises easily hackable computing systems, which the population foolishly allowed a previous corrupt government to install, no traceable hard-copy records for a re-count! Now given overt US State corruption, do YOU really think the elite would take the chance even in media-crucified Trump's case? Not likely, the first time tampering was proven was for 'dubya' Bush's election over opponent Al Gore where brother, governor Jeb, and others rigged the results in Florida -- see Michael Moore video! So it's a circus the whole dastardly affair, but unfortunately the mindless, nose-ringed American masses always pay the price.

Wouldn't YOU think Americans have had enough? Plainly, Americans live in a captured nation ruled by criminals of the most deceitful, heinous, mass murdering, avaricious kind.
