

The Insular, 'let them eat cake,' Global Elite are Approaching the Steps of the Guillotine

You'd think they would have learned after the Brexit vote, but no, they tried to install Clinton in the White House using the same old tired -- now transparent -- media saturation and polls LIES.

Ordering government legal and regulatory institutions to exonerate Hillary for her widely known crimes in PLAIN SIGHT of a fuming public was just plain stupid, notwithstanding that it was also a display of supreme arrogance and disconnect -- known characteristics of the global elite.

Well, did all their huge, DESPERATE efforts succeed in the USA? Not a chance, Trump is now president, not that that outcome is good news but it's certainly preferable to another elite criminal puppet in the White House leading the world to war and lying through her face about the reasons why, while of course throwing the entire population under locomotive tracks, a la Kissinger and Associates, Barack Obama style, servant of the elite extraordinaire.

So now it's panic stations, representatives of the elite will send emissaries/puppets and offer Trump deals and the usual 'incentives' to play ball and Trump will capitulate as he's a businessman and deal-maker, not a president's arsehole.

I would ask the Oligarchs and Plutocrats if they really imagine they can get away with it again, cos Trump has really nowhere to run -- he ranted and raved so strenuously he is forced to deliver but deliver he cannot, he needs elite owned/controlled apparatuses and support to do anything -- do you understand what that means people? YOU lose again and the sooner you realise it the better. But do not take it badly as soon enough you would all come to know and believe that ALL parasitic, self-serving elites must be removed from the face of the earth. This election is just the beginning of the end of America as we have known it.

Now work your brain cells a little harder people, and realise that Trump, as is obvious, represents the elite though another faction -- or do you imagine that billionaires are common folk like you and me?

Though please don't believe what you read here, various contributors to this site are taking great delight in saying, 'told you so' for their many previous posts. November 8 is a day of great satisfaction for many. But remember people it's not finished, it's only just begun, so don't drop the ball now that you finally have possession; THIS TIME YOU CAN REALLY WIN. FLUSH OUT ALL ELITE PARASITES, CHEATS AND CRIMINALS FROM WALL STREET TO CAPITOL HILL AND HANG/JAIL THEM FOR THEIR COUNTLESS CRIMES, after fair trials of course.

November 8, what a great day for humanity providing momentum is maintained.
