

Steroid (drug) Abuse CLEARLY Evident Among Parliament Security Guards

by darcy Wednesday, Nov 30 2016, 3:48am

international / prose / post

Let it be stated from the outset that unless otherwise medically prescribed, steroid use is ILLEGAL, though commonly used by muscle bound/brained imbeciles, notwithstanding the effect on the male genitalia -- 1 inch dicks is what I'm referring to, notwithstanding other psychological deleterious effects like explosive violence and loss of control.

A civilian protest against cruel and inhumane treatment of refugees occurred at Parliament House today. The ruckus brought out Parliament's security guards in force and lo and behold, some of the guards were muscle pumped beyond normal fitness range -- see image for verification. These goons clearly have NOT been screened for illicit drug use as the image indicates, lenses and angle taken into account. Now note another image, from link below, of our arrogant, $50 billion elite-serving PM, Malcolm Turnbull, who clearly is enjoying the fact that these protesters are being man-handled. Not a good look Mr Turnbull, who displayed a smug partiality not suitable for anyone holding any political office let alone PM.

Now how could any Aussie citizen put their trust in a leader and party that cannot manage a simple task like ensuring that Parliament House staff have been psychologically and physically screened? Answer: we CAN'T! How on earth could this smug, incompetent PM manage a nation if he is unable to manage the simplest thing like ENSURING that guards and other staff with access to male and female parliamentarians do NOT pose a threat? Again, we CAN'T.

The images in the linked article speak a millions words, particularly that of the PM and his attitude to Aussie citizens exercising their right to protest a very valid FAILING of government policy regarding cruel and inhumane treatment of our fellow human beings, which inhumane treatment has been cited by UN officials. Do we need ex-policemen like Peter Dutton in charge of any regulatory body, the Border 'Force' has already made fools of themselves by asking Melbourne citizens in the STREET for identity papers -- give Oz a break!

We suggest this type of absurd authoritarian behaviour is more suited for neo-fascist regimes, like police state America, where steroid-blown police shoot and kill unarmed blacks on a regular basis.

Get the House and your affairs in order Mr incompetent Turnbull, and screen ALL staff for potentially dangerous illegal substance abuse and mental fitness for the job, which procedures are common fare in the corporate sector, a sector Turnbull should be entirely familiar with.

The Australian people are not happy with your non-performance in general Mr Turnbull, and this episode is just another REVEALING example of gross incompetence and a very questionable attitude to citizens exercising their rights for a just cause.

Follow link below for ABC article and numerous revealing images of women and our youth being man-handled by drug abusing security guards at Parliament House -- we would also extend screening to the black-shirted buffoons in Dutton's border 'force.' Clearly today's conservatives are as un-Australian as you could get, they clearly take their lead from America, the leading civilian killing nation in the world. It should also be stated that Australia does not require a permanent U.S. troop presence in peacetime. Let the warmongers sort their own problems without making Australia a PRIMARY NUCLEAR TARGET. Have we got some perspective now, Canberra?

Be advised protesters that may have suffered injury at Parliament House. You are able to claim compensation if you have been brutalised and you are also able to legally demand drug/steroid screening for all offending security guards -- watch that muscle-bound clown run!

http://www.abc.net.au/news/2016-11-30/protesters-disrupt-question-time/8079674?google_editors_picks=true

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2428.html>