

The American Emperor Does have Clothes

And all one need do is trace the suit to the tailors.

While the alternative media is captured by the gush of the mainstream media on the Clinton-Trump-Russia merry-go-round -- you nose-ringed, mindless fucks -- it may be time to THINK outside the captured media-box. Has it occurred to anyone that the president of the United States has Imperial powers granted to the executive by the created circumstance of (perpetual) war, yes, the USA is at war remember (?) with a word, the noun "TERROR." A very convenient opponent as a war against a word is never won, therefore that war which grants above the law powers to a president continues indefinitely by making outrageous and false accusations against anyone the US accuses of terrorist or subversive activity. And so to place a context, the new Emperor which is soon to be someone, is to inherit supreme powers of command. Now, do you imagine the position of such a president would be allowed to be determined by the mindless, media-led, moronic, gutless, masses -- NOT A CHANCE!

And so we are witnessing, as I write, a deliberately orchestrated set of planned events confronting a future president, which may not be Trump, judging by the desperate insider attempts to usurp the people's choice.

'Tailors' in this instance of course fit a suit to the person that fits cleanly into their plans/agenda and it appears that neither Trump nor Clinton are suitable for the puppet role, and to hell with the gutless American people that deserve everything they get -- you see it's not about Clinton, Trump or Russia but the REAL RULERS of the USA -- the sordid bunch of corporate/banker elites, called the 'deep state' or 'shadow government,' and the sooner nose-ringed American morons are able to see the entire picture the sooner they may have a chance of restoring their nation and eliminating the nefarious forces that have hijacked it. Though at the moment everyone in the US, including the alternative media, is being taken for a nice ride, you'd better believe it, as those in REAL power have a fuckin' nightmare plan just waiting to hatch.

Can you guess what it is? Now, morons, consider the western economy died in 2008, and has been on life support (QE) ever since, an untenable situation. And that production has been moved off-shore except of course war industries, worth $trillions, which by their nature must remain on-shore. So who is it that will make the final decision on the new puppet Emperor-president, not the people that's FOR SURE. It's an insider game and all this Clinton-Trump-Russia shit is a distraction of monumental proportions -- but why not, its got almost everyone on the run?

Please appreciate it is difficult appealing to the mesmerised and distracted hence the rough language and offensive tone, so for the few that have been shocked into thinking, I would like you to look up the word, DEMOCRACY, do you remember what it means? MAJORITY RULE!

Now do YOU 'think' it's about time to restore DEMOCRACY TO THE NATION, or would you rather remain nose-ringed by the elites and led to the slaughter -- you dumb, easily-led, mindless fucks? Your REAL enemies are in your FACE, yet you do not see past the magical media tricks that keep them hidden, but not from all, I'm happy to say.

If YOU really want Trump for president then attack any entity that would usurp YOUR choice -- as everything in the media is a croc -- but it's got you fooled, hasn't it, you mindless fucks? The greatest attack on democracy in American history is occurring as I write -- will you sit back with your thumbs up your stupid arses and take it?

Good luck America because YOU have made it a luckless country.
