

Mainstream Religion today is Redundant/Useless

Consider this, how is it possible that the founders of ALL the great religions were extreme RADICALS, yet all today's 'religions' are conservative to the extreme -- polar opposites are irreconcilable, obvious? Therefore, clearly, we are faced with fake religions (all of them) masquerading as authentic.

For example, one of my cousins is a so-called Christian in other words a hypocrite -- the New Testament clearly records that Jesus himself stated that if anyone should take you to court over property rights, one should surrender what is asked for, HE SAID, not me, to paraphrase, 'if they should ask for your shirt give it to them and your coat ALSO,' how's that? One of many IGNORED teachings of Jesus. Now that recommendation is straight out of the mouth of the Christian saviour -- yet how many 'Christians' or churches/temples adhere to this simple recommendation? None to my knowledge, every Christian I have met is a shameless HYPOCRITE and Jesus reserved special treatment for hypocrites, did he ever!

The same could be said for all the great founders of the major religions and their hypocritical followers. The founders, all of them, broke numerous edicts, rules and 'sacred' values of their time, they were radical to the extreme and fearless, especially Jesus who elevated women to the status of men two thousand years ago! But how long did that last, a few weeks after his death, that scurrilous homophobic wanker Paul, hated women and re-imposed redundant Jewish sexist values that fly in the face of Jesus' teachings and ACTIONS, though it is stated that all Jesus' followers should emulate HIM. I mean, I could go on forever citing the differences between the original teachings and examples set by religions founders with the conservative religions of today but I shan't waste my or your time, rather I would approach this obvious outrage constructively but suffice to say that religion today is a STATE apparatus designed to enslave and manage believers.

Okay, if you would really be free you need not follow anyone or book as clearly you have direct access to the divine creator, stated in all the religions. So take that advice, ask directly, you do not need a middleman. You will be answered as PROMISED unless you're so fogged and confused you fail to hear the roar of God in your ears -- for instance, telling you not to kill, lie or cheat BUT LOVE YOU BROTHER/SISTER as yourself -- simple enough and obviously TRUE, yet we go on killing each other and to use Jesus as the example, though all the founders did same, they marched on their corrupt capitals and defied the CORRUPT authorities -- anyone see any Christians marching on Washington and demanding that the USA stop all its ILLEGAL wars and free the people? The last person that attempted that was Martin Luther King jr, a man of integrity who at least TRIED to live according to Christian principles -- and what happened to him? Assassinated by a CIA stooge, no doubt, as he was considered a threat to the status quo, as was Kennnedy and his brother. Give me a break! But MLK displayed no fear like the founder of his religion. Yet today the American Christian population is too shit scared to face a Sikh in a Turban, naturally mistaking same for a Muslim, you dumb gutless fucks.

No-one mediates between you and God, so stand on your own two feet you adult babies. No man or woman stands between me and my direct relationship with the creator, as no human or social institution is qualified to do so -- that simple.

I could go on but there is no mistaking your hypocrisy, COWARDICE and inability to take responsibility for your own lives AND STAND ON YOUR OWN TWO FEET -- IF YOU DID SO, THE WORLD WOULD BE AT PEACE.

The LAW of Karma is inviolable, also expressed as 'reaping what we sow,' if you do not act in support of your God, which is the same God to all religions, then you will inherit your just reward -- now think what that will amount to TODAY. Put simply you're ALL fucked, you wimps, LIARS, killers and cheats. We are all able to support and prosecute for PEACE, what will be your excuse when YOUR time comes?
