

This story is not about Trump it's about the REAL power brokers of the World

It makes me want to laugh and cry simultaneously witnessing how easily the mass media and alternative media are directed, in the first instance, and led, in the second instance, into feasting on a major distraction, Trump.

For pete's sake, does anyone with a functional brain really believe Trump is able to wield any independent power unless he is permitted? Now hearken back to one of history's major propaganda coups, the 'liberation of the holy land' from the heathen Muslims, centuries past.

This propaganda stunt was designed to launch Europe and all its monarchies, people and resources into a war, NOT to liberate the holy land but to plunder the wealth of Byzantium, which wealth challenged that of Rome and as we all know money is POWER.

A special multi-national mercenary group of knights known as the Templars was formed by the Vatican to plunder Byzantium of its huge assets in gold, silver and jewels, which it did, and return same to Rome; however, the leader of the Templars had other ideas -- huge wealth corrupts completely. The Templars found themselves swimming in wealth which they then returned to Europe but not to the Vatican though small amounts had to be handed over to Rome, which funded the enterprise.

The Templars formed 'banks' which lent money that funded various European monarchies engaged in local wars with neighbours. The Templars supported both sides financially, they couldn't lose, extracting monies lent at interest from both victors and losers but the Vatican became suspicious though Templar leaders always pledged allegiance to Rome, but clearly not all their now HUGE wealth. So as history records the Pope issued a decree, urged on by financially enslaved monarchies now 'owned' by the Templars, to eliminate this group of powerful bloodsuckers. Subsequently Templar leaders were arrested, burned at the stake or murdered, but not all of them as is usual when purges are declared. Many went underground with their enormous wealth, only to re-surface as secret societies, invisible to outsiders, which once again established large business/financial interests and banks, however, this time they included members of the ruling blood elite and powerful outsiders like Jewish merchants and money-lenders and members of new governments formed from the aristocracy of European nations, it was a sham as the same essential interests of the Templars were once again in control of the western world.

This 'establishment' endures to this day, known as globalists, the ruling elite, shadow government or deep state, its influence is phenomenal, this group has been ruling the world for hundreds of years and has honed its skills accordingly; it is responsible for all the major world and other wars, yet not a finger is pointed directly to the responsible parties. It serves no other interests but its own, which includes its multinational 'corporate' arm. So what's new today? NOTHING! Only the facade changes to suit the times.

Now I appreciate that I have distilled history for the sake of brevity and have used a little license to make a fundamental point, and that is that the world has been and is being ruled by mega-wealthy elite interests, which criminal group have been responsible for all the major wars and revolutions, the French and US civil war to name two but particularly the globally oriented communist revolution. Mercantilism became capitalism the signature of western 'democracy' (don't make me laugh) that prevails in most western nations today.

This group counts its wealth in thousands of $trillions today, now do you imagine for one instant that a petty billionaire's wealth or influence could match the global ruling elite, in your dreams. If Trump survives, as it appears he will, then CLEARLY he is a puppet and servant of the global elite, if not he was an outsider opposed to the 'fold.' But wherever his allegiances lie, he is only a punctuation mark in a history which to date, has been completely designed by secret nefarious forces, which I would now add have one major weakness -- MONEY.

The only REAL road to freedom for the masses and the oppressed is to dispense with it completely, thereby neutralising the power of this nefarious mass murdering elite that are currently pursuing the same old tired game of financing all sides while fomenting wars between them. Impossible you say, NO, as digital cashless societies offer an alternative but ONLY if the means and production of digital money REMAINS IN PUBLIC HANDS, much like Bitcoin.

Now watch Trump's foreign policy, which if temporarily siding with Russia to break the alliance with China, and then of course turning on both nations, which is the current elite plan, then you would know. Meanwhile the same tired old propaganda and tired tricks/distractions used centuries ago to plunder Byzantium are being used today. What a pathetic joke on humanity. You could hardly blame the elite for their arrogance, treachery and complete disregard for the lives of average honest people. So beware the many charades that will be played out in the media to ensure that no-one is able to target the REAL evil in this world, an evil that has existed since the time of the Pharaohs, if the truth be known.
