

A Culture of Narcissism - reflections on the Failed Women's March

I have been scouring all the news sites, mainstream and 'alternative,' though alternative is a lie, there is NOTHING alternative about the alternative American media, simply browse the CONTENT of both groups and you'll see it awash with Trump and inward looking American issues. Not one story on AMERICA'S criminal wars, which have resulted in millions of innocent men, women and children dead. But narcissists only see themselves, as is now evident after the 'event.' "Wasn't the march fabulous," one pussy says to another, participators will no doubt revel in their tame orchestrated demo for months.

Gone were the head-busting and rubber bullet protests of the 60's, which the State viewed as threatening, the women's march was right on cue, created and propelled by the dominant American media, which content is fashioned by the CFR well before it hits the wires; stay tuned to your navel is the subtext, there is no news outside America, especially stories covering American war crimes and other searing injustices. How tame and easily led the entire American population has become -- costs of navel-gazing and self-absorption. It all goes according to elite plans, part of the push to remove Trump and install an elite puppet in the White House; the elite status quo hasn't missed a beat, but who has noticed?

So prepare for more self-involved PUBLIC navel-gazing until Trump inevitably bites the dust. The American public today is INCAPABLE OF INDEPENDENT THOUGHT or even seeing the other, the millions of victims of American foreign policy; the elite quite clearly has the local game sewn up.

Well, this piece is to remind the few in America that the rest of the world has a very clear view from the outside, we continue to see gross and perpetual American criminality, social abuse and oppression inside America; you see -- but I know you don't -- what is lacking is a truly independent media NOT awash with elite designed content to be spoon-fed to a nation of self-obsessed narcissistic MORONS.

American INSULARITY has created a profoundly lost population, lost in their own reflections. Well, I hate to disappoint, but the rapidly changing world REALITY will come as a traumatic shock and will have the usual effect on those in denial, social PARALYSIS/shock and then, I hope, annihilation; all while you star-spangled clowns are tripping the delusional light fantastic.

The screams of people dying in American corporate wars, the environment becoming more hostile as a result of corporate produced products/pollution. A multitude of hostile forces are approaching like the deafening sound of a train in a tunnel, but Americans hear and see only themselves.
