Do you imagine the Trump show is for real? If you do you are simply of the moronic herd, led this way and that by the elites that own western MASS communication infrastructures/outlets.

Have not a few analysts seen through this Trump charade? Trump is without any doubt an elite puppet whether he knows it or not is irrelevant -- Trump has turned civilised diplomacy on its ear in a matter of weeks, he has earned the ire of most of the world and all its factions -- a remarkable achievement if Trump intended it but he didn't. He is a flawed pathological insecure personality that revels in the attention good or bad, that is why he is the perfect choice of the elite which have created the world's biggest FALL GUY. Yes, Trump is the elite's fall guy! The KNOWN elite agenda is the destruction/'taming' of Iran -- what do you think the Syrian conflict is really all about, media-lobtomised, morons? If China and/or Russia interfere then its goodbye to them which would leave a clear, if not irradiated field, for elite world or what's left of it, take-over. Does it now make sense that Trump spent hours on the phone with leaders of the most vehemently anti-Iranian, repressive regime in the world, Saudi Arabia? Trump promised to support the Saudis to destroy Iran, so a false flag is on the way to realise that aspect of the elite agenda. You'd better believe it, as I detest saying I told you so, time and time again!

It is irrelevant whether Trump knowingly or unknowingly dances to the elite's tune because while almost the entire world is distracted by Trump the elite agenda remains unscathed. So when THE WAR breaks out which could result in a full nuclear exchange, Trump will take the blame and the elite would re-emerge unscathed -- as of course it was all the fault of that thin-skinned psychopath, Trump. Trump has become the biggest 'useful idiot' of all time, and the world remains fully distracted by him, which says a lot about YOU -- notwithstanding reality dictates that Trump is a mental midget and completely bereft of the skills to lead any nation let alone the most powerful in the world; what I'm saying is that it was NO ACCIDENT that he won the office of president! Now do you imagine for a second that this outcome was a result of Trump's non-existent skills, if you do I need to review my moron measure. It's as obvious as dog's balls that Trump is THEIR man and was placed in power; he serves numerous purposes, but the biggest are that he is the perfect catalyst for WAR and of course the perfect scapegoat/FALL GUY. All this while the REAL evil remains in the shadows manipulating everything, including the greatest SHOW on earth, flaky Donald Trump.

Now wake up and go back to sleep, you indescribably gullible morons.
