

What's the real Alternative to Trump?

The western media is doing a fine job of distracting the masses as usual. Almost the entire western media apparatus is saturated with Trump this, and Trump that, fiasco, they're having a field day. Indeed, Trump is anything but settling, however, the shrill screams of the media, all aimed at eliminating Trump, offer or suggest no viable alternatives and that is the major problem, as the existing alternative is the deep state/establishment and status quo, and that is precisely what the masses voted AGAINST. So take a deep breath and step back from the media induced hysteria and THINK!

What are the real alternatives, as the media will continue its negative one-eyed focus on Trump, hoping of course that a transition to an establishment puppet would go smoothly without outrage and protest? So the BIG question is what are the REAL alternatives to Trump and the much hated establishment, short answer, NONE at this moment in time. And that my dear readers is the REAL ISSUE, not media contrived Trump hysteria.

Now, we all know that self-serving elite rule is being rejected world wide, however, this minority did not rise to immense power because they're stupid, they are PLAYING the public/masses as I write and the tragedy is the nose-ringed public, as usual, is falling for it, hook, line and 'SINKER.' Which of course presents a real problem for the people.

Replacing Trump with another Clinton type establishment servant, Pence, is NOT a solution, do you remember why you voted against such puppet candidates? Indeed, the two horse one stable race is alive and well in the USA. So we must look outside this contrived and intentionally designed farce. And when we do, there's nothing viable on offer, which is a trick statement, you see I am a trained specialised media consultant and know the game inside and out, because of course alternatives always exist, especially if you unhitch your manipulated minds from the media wagon.

So do YOU see any viable alternatives to the puppet show in Washington? Indeed, when nothing acceptable is on offer, where do we look, to DEMOCRACY OF COURSE, politicians are supposed to represent the majority, though today they never do. They are supposed to be the ELECTED REPRESENTATIVES of the PEOPLE, not liars and scurrilous self-serving rogues that serve a criminal minority elite, which is the reason Trump was elected in the first instance, notwithstanding he is entirely unsuitable for the job, obvious; but perhaps that was the plan all along as there would have been outrage and massive social unrest if KNOWN detested, Hillary, was placed in power. So what to do? Slip another establishment puppet/servant in the side door, and present it as saving the US presidency from a profoundly flawed and destructive personality, 'phew, we saved the day!' Do YOU now SEE how it works, as that clearly is the current elite strategy?

Well, now the 'revelation,' the viable alternative is of course REAL democracy, in other words the VIABLE ALTERNATIVE TO THE WASHINGTON SWAMP is PEOPLE POWER, directly; nothing else at this stage is on offer but a complete restoration of American democracy.

So there you have it, or do YOU? But a question goes begging, do YOU have what it takes to restore and take back your nation from the manipulative, evil, criminal hands of establishment elites? Do not press ME for an answer, surprise me instead!
