

WikiLeaks' Vault 7 -- Timing

Julian Assange is a curious character with clear martyr complex tendencies, however, he has recently hit hard against his enemy, the USA, which of course has vowed to arrest and place him on trial for breaches of America's espionage laws, which I should add, should also be applied to US intel agencies as it has become obvious the CIA is in breach of so many local and international communications laws it's outrageous. So let's apply those laws to a now obviously ROGUE Central Intelligence Agency.

First, the CIA never had authority to target US citizens including the president, which they have done recently by leaking to their compliant mass media outlets all manner of sordid and compromising unsubstantiated information clearly designed to destroy the Trump presidency, such is the CIA's self-willed arrogance and disregard for the laws and conventions that have for generations cemented the US Republic into a powerful unified nation. Indeed, without a unified nation America would be nothing on the world stage, and unfortunately the CIA seems to be doing everything in its power to disintegrate the American nation, though the clearly DELUDED and power-intoxicated CIA would say the opposite, but reality begs to differ.

Numerous issues now confront the American people, the foremost being what to do with a clearly rogue institution, which is also rumoured to have been involved in the assassination of a former president that threatened the CIA's existence, JFK.

Clearly Trump's threat to 'drain the Washington swamp,' of anti-American and treacherous influences now compromising the entire nation, has sent the rats scurrying from their previously hidden holes.

Such is the desperation of these treasonous and un-American forces that they now wage their internal war openly in the media for the WORLD to see, much to the amusement and gain of competing States. It becomes plain that if the USA does not stem the hemorrhaging and compromising revelations of how things actually work in the criminal ranks of the Deep State, then the nation is finished and I do not exaggerate, as integrity is foremost in all people's minds when it comes to government matters, and it's clearly apparent the CIA does not possess a shred of integrity or any other positive, redeeming human quality. The CIA has become a liability, as it was allowed by gutless and compliant (to Deep State interests) presidents to run rampant without sufficient oversight, which gross failing, former presidents should clearly be held accountable. The president is more than obliged to represent the majority that elected him/her to office.

The ramifications of Assange's revenge/revelations, Vault 7, are far reaching indeed, as it is made plain that the CIA now, without oversight or adequate legal restraint, is targeting the American people, not enemy STATES, which it was originally created to do.

The timing of this latest release of compromising information by Assange could not have been better, as Washington is embroiled in an internal self-defeating war, plain to see. Indeed, another real war is raging between individual persons and States, in this post-modern age, which our parent site, Cleaves Newswire, predicted some years past, but no-one was listening then or is listening now. So what will come of it all? I hope that the Deep State's reputationally trashed media outlets fail to placate the American and WORLD public which are ALL completely vulnerable to the CIA's despicable, illegal and grossly criminal actions, I refer to various laws in sovereign nations regarding using communications infrastructures/networks for illegal purposes -- hacking, CIA or otherwise, is illegal in most nations and the law does not discriminate. Indeed, the CIA today is WORLD ENEMY #1 as its activities are pervasive, the rogue CIA is dragging itself and the USA down with it.

If president Trump doesn't soon take drastic remedial action the American nation would be compromised beyond recovery. And it would be clear the responsibility would fall on the rogue American 'Deep State.' Furthermore, it is already rumoured that members of this treasonous criminal organisation are already jumping the sinking Deep State ship. We shall see where it all leads, the world has never seen such a drama played out in the open before!

As for Mr Assange, finally, ay! Well executed and how very sweet it is; you now have no need of all those mirrors, Julian!
