Remember the socially mythologised, now infamous, military killers/assassins known particularly in Hollywood, as Seal Team 6, which group is reputed to have killed an already dead, from renal failure, Osama Bin Laden. The TRUTH about Bin Laden's real death was publicly announced by Benazir Bhutto, former leader of Pakistan, shortly before SHE was assassinated herself(?)

Pakistan is of course the nation that offered, with US approval, safe haven and specialised hospital treatment for Bin Laden's renal disease. So information of his real death was known in Pakistan, which occurred years before the Seal Team allegedly killed a dead man, notwithstanding they were trained to kill someone(?) however, that was clearly not CIA asset, Bin Laden.

Preposterous, some uninformed TV/movie watchers would say, waving the American flag in one hand while holding an apple pie in the other, you mindless, media lobotomised morons. Recall the FACT that members of Seal Team 6 that participated in the initial Pakistani raid that purportedly assassinated CIA agent Bin Laden, were all killed in a subsequent helicopter crash, how convenient, as all real witnesses to this obvious fraud were eliminated on orders from the American Deep State, which is also responsible for the illegal invasion of, based on LIES, Iraq and is also responsible for every interventionist war in North and East Africa and the Middle East, most of which continue today.

The latest news regarding the clearly expendable Seal Team 6 is that they are rehearsing a raid on North Korea's leader, fat chance of success; clown 'Kim' is so paranoid he recently had his half-brother assassinated in Malaysia. So any real attack on Kim, would of course be obvious, no eager-beaver movie watching expendable covert force is required though they make good fall guys. Do your research boys!

Not to be confused with the absurd plan by the Deep State to take out Kim, is the following report of the rumour, which is doing the rounds on the alternative real media news networks, we thank the author for his piece, however, the Deep State's alleged plan, is clearly symptomatic of severe mental disease; though please give it your best covert shot, Seal Team 6, then beware that you are not assassinated yourselves. The only way a foreign nation would be able to kill a world leader is with very obvious OVERT attacks. Get real, you flag-waving imbeciles:

Seal Team 6 Prepare To Take Out Kim Jong-Un, Practice Tactical North Korea "Infiltration"

by Tyler Durden

On March 1, the WSJ reported that the options contemplated by the White House in response to recent North Korean acts, include "the possibility of both military force and regime change to counter the country's nuclear-weapons threat." The review came amid recent events that have strained regional stability, which include last month's launch by North Korea of a ballistic missile into the Sea of Japan, and the assassination of the estranged half brother of North Korean leader Kim Jong Un in Malaysia.

And, according to a report in Yonhap, said "regime change" may come far sooner than expected: the South Korean website writes that U.S. special operations forces, including the unit that killed Osama Bin Laden, will take part in joint military drills in South Korea "to practice incapacitating North Korean leadership in the case of conflict", a military official said Monday.

The U.S. Navy's Special Warfare Development Group, better known as the SEAL Team 6, will arrive in South Korea for joint military drills and take part in an exercise simulating a precision North Korean incursion and "the removal of North Korean leader Kim Jong-un", according to the Ministry of National Defense Monday.

The U.S. Navy SEAL Team Six will join the annual Foal Eagle and Key Resolve exercises between the two allies for the first time, along with the Army's Rangers, Delta Force and Green Berets.

The counterterrorism unit is best known for its removal of Al-Qaeda leader Osama bin Laden in May 2011, known as Operation Neptune Spear. It will be the team's first time participating in the annual Foal Eagle and Key Resolve exercises, which will run through late April.

The ministry did not say when the SEAL Team 6 will arrive. The Japan Times reported that the American unit boarded the USS Carl Vinson, a Nimitz-class aircraft carrier, last Friday and are currently training in South Korean waters. The carrier will arrive in Busan Port Wednesday, according to the Japanese newspaper. The ministry did not say when the SEAL Team 6 will arrive, however according to The Japan Times, the American unit will arrive in Busan Port Wednesday, according to the Japanese newspaper.

As Korea JoongAng Daily adds, also set to touch down in South Korea is Delta Force, a special mission unit of the U.S. Army whose main tasks include hostage rescue and counterterrorism, said the Defense Ministry. Together with SEAL Team 6, they will practice removing Kim Jong-un and destruction of North Korea's weapons of mass destruction.

"It will send a very strong message to North Korea, which is constantly carrying out military provocations," a ministry official said.

"A bigger number of and more diverse U.S. special operation forces will take part in this year's Foal Eagle and Key Resolve exercises to practice missions to infiltrate into the North, remove the North's war command and demolition of its key military facilities," a ministry official told Yonhap News Agency asking not to be named.

F-35 stealth fighters will also fly from U.S. Navy bases in Japan this month and carry out strike simulations on key North Korean facilities. A joint amphibious landing operation, which will kick off next month, will see the deployment of support ships the USS Bonhomme Richard, USS Green Bay and USS Ashland.

The beefing up of U.S. special operation forces in the drills comes after North Korean leader Kim said in a New Year's speech that the country was in the "final stage" of test-firing an intercontinental ballistic missile, the first of its kind, and pushed through two separate missile tests earlier this year, the latest on March 6. North Korea claimed through its state-run media that the most recent drill was aimed at striking “the bases of the U.S. imperialist aggressor forces in Japan.”

Washington and Seoul stress that the annual military drills are purely defensive, although Pyongyang sees them as a rehearsal for an invasion. South Korea’s military said around 290,000 domestic soldiers and 10,000 U.S. soldiers will participate in this year’s drills, which by scale would be approximately the same as last year, the largest to date.

While the US may have decided to remove the element of surprise from a potential tactical strike inside North Korea in order to spook Kim Jong-Un, it is just as likely that by exposing their intentions, the US may have precipitated a response from the Korean leader which will make such a military operation inevitable, even as the geopolitical fallout for the region from such an action could be dire. As a reminder, last week an analysis by the Predata-Beyond Parallel strategic consultancy predicted that there is a 43% chance of North Korean WMD activity taking place in the next 14 days, rising to 62% in the next 30 days. Beyond Parallel defines WMD activity as nuclear tests and ballistic missile launches.
