

Will Known Coward/Traitor Putin Acquiesce to War Mongering USA?

Political commentators and analysts are now faced with the above question as there is no doubt or uncertainty about the grossly illegal American attacks on sovereign Syria, ally to Russia.

Sell-out and coward, Vladimir Putin

I use the term 'ally' loosely with Russia as its track record of supporting allies in the recent past is abysmal. It abandoned Yugoslavia, a blood traditional Slav ally, then Libya while allowing US/NATO to install offensive missile systems on Russia's land borders, and this clown Putin is supposed to be acting in Russia's and his ally's best interests!

So in view of his very clear and despicable behaviour in the past, I would bet Putin acquiesces to one of Washington's secret deals, which of course the US deep state has no intention of honouring -- learn from the past, Putin!

Putin is NOW faced with shooting down American war planes and attacking naval vessels, including submarines that continue to attack ally Syria.

While most commentators are in agreement that the US attack was a political move, I wouldn't be so sure, as the lunatic neocons that steer American foreign policy are hell-bent on war with Russia, China, Iran and North Korea.

So reality is plain to see Mr Putin and other deluded observers.

Now the question is whether Putin has the nerve to legitimately and legally oppose US criminal plans in the Middle East? Previous history would indicate that Putin will fold -- in fact, Putin is a mouse though he tries to roar and appear like a lion, notwithstanding his character, temperament and cowardice are well known in Washington, which is why he is the butt of very degrading jokes in Deep State circles.

So, are the criminal American attacks WWII in the making? Probably, as Putin's unfortunate terminal accident is well overdue if he fails YET AGAIN to protect Russia and its interests/allies.

I conclude this short opinion piece with a warning to the lunatic neocons, you are dealing with far more than mouse Putin today, in fact, you have no idea what awaits Putin if he fails Russia again.

And good riddance to the most easily deceived, thoroughly CORRUPT and timid leader Russia has had to endure. AMERICA, YOU ARE PLAYING WITH FIRE!
