

Losers

no coward enters paradise but for a few notable exceptions today's societies are tragically over-populated with losers people, unaware of their pathetic condition ignore the injustices around them or worse, acquiesce to the authority of criminals in high office beaten, fearful and pressed into the ground

the masses are content to eat shit, wallow in delusion and accept the most transparent lies regarding their condition rather than oppose and remedy widening disparities and inequities the masses make do with ever decreasing amounts of their rightful share the criminal pigs at the top seem to have won the day, but nothing is ever what it appears/seems to be
