

Waging Endless War on the Noun 'Terror'

Have you ever asked an American -- all legends in their own 'exceptional' minds and 'geniuses' by nature -- how to wage war on a word? I am not being facetious or wise-arsed; if we look behind the absurd strategy of waging a perpetual war on the noun, 'terror,' it quickly becomes evident that such a tactic enables war mongers to attack anyone they choose by simply making the accusation that the target is a 'terrorist!'

Now think dreamboats, how much actual evidence exists anywhere that CIA creation Bin Laden was responsible for 9/11? After due consideration, 'sweet fuck all,' nothing valid that would stand up in a court of law, fact! Yet all the military interventions the US has and is conducting have been based on disinformation, deception and flagrant LIES, as is well known today.

If these obvious resource wars of THEFT and territorial acquisition were conducted in a relatively competent manner -- minimal innocent civilian casualties and destruction -- global populations may have ignored the sordid LIES and gross deceptions underlying all of America's wars. However, the glaring characteristic of today's American wars is INCOMPETENCE and wanton violence and destruction.

The bungled from the start, oil grab in Iraq carries the heinous cost of the first civilian holocaust of the new century, I'm sure average Americans would be 'proud' of that Nazi record -- over one million innocent civilians killed, four million citizens displaced and a thoroughly ruined state. Iraq was/is an act of pure vandalism perpetrated at the behest of Corporatists who could care less how much blood is spilled or 'how it's done,' as long as they appropriate the desired resource and turn a PROFIT -- and there you have the 'moral' foundation of all America's wars today!

The existence of an unspeakable (in the USA) tragedy that has befallen the once brave and proud American population, who have been reduced to genitally groped, shit-eating dogs and cringing slaves by their Corporate controlled, police State masters.

It is simply impossible/absurd to conduct a conventional war on a word. The military adventures of the recent past have all been concerted criminal enterprises -- proof of this reality exists in abundance in the public domain today. Every LIE has been exposed and every stinking criminal perpetrator in high office stands stained with the blood of countless innocents on their hands.

America, you have degenerated into the world's leading criminal State -- second to none -- an inglorious 'achievement' that will haunt you forever in the historical record -- no-one can hide from the overwhelming recorded facts!

Of course there is always the possibility and OPPORTUNITY of redemption, but it would necessarily entail restoring law and order to criminal America and bringing KNOWN guilty criminals -- including the extra-judicial, 'kill list' president -- to trial and holding them accountable for their many war and other crimes against ALL civilised HUMANITY!

The prerequisites for restoring the nation are readily available, courage, conviction, fortitude and a moral, just population pursuing JUSTICE -- indeed, the responsibility and decision RESTS entirely with the PEOPLE, as it ALWAYS has!
