

Trump's Order to "Annihilate" ISIS is Laughable

This one takes the cake; Trump recently approved a Pentagon plan to eradicate the Islamic State WHILE (almost) simultaneously supplying the Saudi's with \$150b in military weaponry.

Doh!

Now, for reality deprived American readers; the informed world is acutely aware that the Saudis sponsor ISIS and other extremist Jihadi groups; from Saudi prince Bandar's own filthy mouth, "we control [own] the terrorists, we turn them on and off like a light switch," (UK Telegraph), LMFAO, so the buffoon president lives up to his reputation as an uninformed political idiot -- but Trump like 'dubya' Bush remains useful as his cranium is empty, there is no functional brain to interfere with the neocon/deep state agenda.

HOWEVER, that is not the major aspect of this story which is neatly hidden in the subtext. The Pentagon intends to use the excuse of 'annihilating' ISIS to pursue its illegal Middle East and North African wars. It gives the war on the noun 'terror' impetus when it was running out of steam and credibility, but we've seen it all before.

Under the guise/pretext of fighting ISIS the US intends to establish 'safe zones' (surgically stolen sovereign land) in strategic regions in Syria, Iraq and North Africa, under its control of course -- a 'safe zone' is actually a euphemism for brazenly stolen land from sovereign States, as was 'successfully' accomplished in the 90's with the ILLEGAL amputation of Kosovo from Yugoslavia. So there is certainly nothing new under the sun emanating from Pentagon antiquated and ossified thinkers that continue to use the SAME tired and worn out tricks to hopefully justify their massive and ongoing international crimes.

Meanwhile blind imbecile Trump is patting himself on the back for cutting what he imagines is a 'deal' with the criminal Saudis that remain the WORLD'S LEADING SPONSORS OF TERRORISM AND TERRORIST GROUPS.

If you wish to verify the FACT, you need not accept The Telegraph's reporting though it is accurate, simply trace how ISIS got its fleet of Toyota trucks and other necessary equipment and supplies -- Hillary Clinton knows -- (in an email to Podesta) "[...] the governments of Qatar and Saudi Arabia, [...]

are providing clandestine financial and logistic support to ISIL and other radical Sunni groups in the region." LOL! Then if you are truly able, which eliminates 99.5% of the world's population, you could also discover who pays ISIS fighters and other Jihadi proxy fighting groups for their services.

This news is beyond absurd, as it flies in the face of well known FACTS/reality, all of which are readily available in the public domain. Give the informed world a break, you yankee doodle Pentagon dumbarses. Or alternatively try to get away with this tired old ruse once again and see what happens!
