

G20: Don't Blame Trump for America's Pariah Status

Trump is America, a braggart dunce that imagines he's 'indispensable,' 'exceptional' and can do whatever he wants even though he's an obnoxious narcissist, buffoon and political dunce, a reflection of the ignorant American population no doubt -- but it's the American prerogative to throw your weight around and be full of shit, isn't it?

The Idiot President destroying America

Trump/America has discovered at the G20 that few internationals accept belligerent, neocon "pax-Americana" doctrine, and they are ready to fight Trump's policies, as was OPENLY stated at the G20.

World leaders expressing the sentiments of their respective populations have figuratively given Trump the one-finger salute. Any nation that does not respect other nations or attempts to corrupt or intimidate other nations/leaders would of course be destined for PARIAN status, no secret, but the penny hasn't dropped in lobotomised America, yet -- they are slow over there. So finally, at the G20, the truth has become undeniable reality for every American to chew on and I would add, most of the world hopes that America would choke on the truth, which, as is well known, America displays a pathological aversion for.

China, Russia, Europe and a multitude of other nations have been openly building an alternative economy to withdraw from America's dominance since WWII, which the Americans have forced due to their abuse of privilege and power stemming from the greenback as the world's default currency; well, not for much longer, I'm happy to say.

Alternative markets, currencies and HUGE resources all combine to destroy the arrogant pig of the world that imagines it can break a multitude of international laws in seeking (STEALING) what it wants via flagrantly illegal military aggression and the mass murder and displacement of MILLIONS of innocent civilians in targeted nations -- well NOT SO, as most of the world is signatory to these laws, which America alone, among developed nations, breaks almost daily in arrogant, "what are you going to do about it," fashion.

"Do about it", ay! Well choke on what the WORLD IS DOING ABOUT IT! This is clearly the last chance for rustic, brute, criminal America, either join the civilised law-abiding world and make restitution with invaded AND exploited nations, or be cast out, which fate would completely ruin the already ruined American nation. We know you imagine otherwise in your delusions doodles, but try and understand you can't fight the entire world and hope not to be annihilated.

The choice is yours banjo-playing doodle dreamboats. Oh, but I forgot, the population like its leader hasn't got a brain cell to bless itself with, it's a crying shame that guns can't think.

America today is the MOST DISPENSABLE nation on earth, but don't tell the dreamboats, they hate truth, freedom and real liberty -- their oppressed, police state society advertises the fact to the WORLD, daily!
