PM Turnbull is pretending outrage and demanding answers over the police murder of an innocent Aussie woman in Minneapolis recently, though killings by police are par for the course in the USA.

Murdered Aussie, Justine Damond

This tragic event not only sends a clear message to all Aussies but to all global citizens, the USA is a shoot-first, cover-up and lie later, police state. Neither the police offender nor the police vehicle had their compulsory cams turned on at the time of the shooting, according to US officials -- smell a coverup do we? It is more likely that the cams were on and that the video evidence is damning but of course we're dealing with rampant US corruption and an authoritarian police state.

Let it be a warning to all civilised nations throughout the world that the world's leading civilian killing and war mongering nation is no better at home than it is creating unnecessary and horrendous wars abroad.

Unfortunately Aussies are well aware that Oz governments of whatever stripe, kow-tow to Washington, so there is little hope of justice being served while ineffectual PM Turnbull merely postures.

Be warned, there is nothing to draw anyone to the United States these days but harassment at airports, civil unrest and possible murder from various internal regulatory authorities in that clearly LUNATIC NATION.
