

Trump Ends CIA Role in Arming and Training Terrorist Proxy Fighters in Syria

by hasan Friday, Jul 21 2017, 1:06pm

international / prose / post

There is background to this recent 'news,' which of course has been duly distorted in the Washington Post, a notorious propaganda rag -- link below.

Trump, prior to his election to office, stated plainly on a number of occasions while campaigning that Syria was "already lost," so his decision to end the CIA's criminal role in arming and training terrorist proxy fighters is NO SURPRISE though America's mass media is having a field day portraying this expected move as deference to Russia/Putin -- what a ludicrous distortion!

Readers should note that at no time has Putin demanded that the USA withdraw its highly illegal presence and cease its destructive activities in Syria, which means, based also on Putin's extraordinary military hiatuses, which allowed American/Saudi/Israeli/Turkish proxy forces to regroup and be re-supplied by the CIA and the Saudis, Jordan and Turkey, that he is party to more than meets the eye. Russia ceased its devastating and LEGAL military onslaught in support of al-Assad on obvious pretexts, and this while proxy fighters were all but defeated on numerous occasions. The CIA utilised this arranged tactic of course to drop arms ammunitions and supplies to its rebel proxy fighters directly under Putin's criminal, colluding nose.

Anyone that imagines that Putin is NOT party to the massive illegalities in Syria though Russia's presence is perfectly legal, is either uninformed or dreaming -- Putin is a well known coward and criminal, plain to see, as there is no valid explanation as to why he has never invoked international law and made a public issue of it to the entire world which would have forced international courts to act or be ridiculed. Yes, indeed there is much more to this story or feign, than appears to be. Watch closely as in the very near future more sordid and transparent deals between the criminal players should become evident though the mass media would attempt to present such in an entirely compromising, sensationalist or distorted manner.

Consider that no mention was made of the US withdrawing its illegal presence/occupation in Syria without so much as a squeak from mouse Putin or China's Xi in that regard!? Two powers that could easily INSIST on the APPLICATION of international law -- imagine the politicised Hague courts reaction when confronted with such legal demands from two superpowers. Indeed the silence and INACTION from Russia and China speaks volumes about possible criminal collusion and sordid deal making between criminal groups both East and West -- though it is no secret the entire world has been hijacked by elite, mega-wealthy groups that control the global economy and most major events.

Viewed for what it is, Trump's decision falls very short of a cessation of conflict in Syria, as it does not include the Saudis, Israel and other Gulf State supporters of proxy fighters, which Saudi prince Bandar once openly boasted to Putin he could turn proxy fighting groups "on and off like a light switch". He also stated that terrorist groups would be dispensed with when they served their purpose, a purpose -- removing Assad -- they failed miserably to accomplish in Syria. So it is not unexpected that supporters of these groups have now turned on them, particularly ISIS, as the sordid relationship is reaching red heat and would have compromised/exposed supporting nations internationally. Of course the bigger fools are the rank and file terrorists which have been used as pawns throughout and are now being slaughtered by their former supporters, a just desert for fighting their Muslim brothers for dirty money.

Astute political commentators are not overreacting to this news in the negative or positive as it is only a minor manoeuvre and a far cry from the cessation of hostilities which Russia and the USA could accomplish overnight, if they chose. The Syrian proxy conflict was orchestrated from the very start and ending it is merely a matter of ceasing supply.

Now have a little fun reading how the WaPo is depicting this rather minor story:

<http://tinyurl.com/y9apf3kd>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2778.html>