

US Mass Media Pulls Plug on Russiagate and Nuclear War Threats

by cyd Saturday, Aug 19 2017, 2:42am

international / prose / post

It is quite remarkable how quick the deep state-'owned' (CFR) American mass media distracts and moves focus from hyper-critical issues/stories. Take for instance the most critical story deserving of constant pursuit, Trump's LUNATIC threats to engage in a nuclear war with North Korea, as if it was a backyard fight.

When infantile imbecile Trump threatened nuclear war, it was presented by the mass media as consequential, the result of prevailing circumstances which have not changed, whereas reality dictates that Trump's threats, supported by the Pentagon, CIA, neocons and other psychopathic war hawks in Washington, is the most newsworthy story in over 50 years.

The clearly lunatic president of the world's leading civilian killing nation made these threats as though the world's population would accept their lives being threatened. So after sanity prevailed or the trick didn't work, as Trump's life and those of his deep state handlers were immediately threatened as a matter of global self-preservation, the issue was immediately dumped by the media; so cue another rather tame though emotive story to saturate the mass media, Trump's undisguised support for American extremists such as the KKK and other white supremacist groups, complete with a violent opposition in the Virginia confrontation. It all seemed staged to me, as no indication or stirrings had been reported prior to the event, which is unusual.

Now take a calm deep breath and realise that Trump by nature has ALWAYS been an overt racist, his early policies of immigration bans, walls on land borders etc., prove the point, so why is it now an issue when this leopard's spots are well known? Of course Trump is a RACIST, morons, he wears it on his sleeve. However, the answer for professional analysts and the politically aware is no secret, major faux pas to threaten the lives of everyone on the planet with an unnecessary nuclear war and so another distraction is required, and if it doesn't exist create it, a favourite method of the American deep state. So what is the result?

Not a peep on 'Russiagate' or nuclear war from the mass media! It's all about racism, an emotive but second rate runner compared to a nuclear holocaust, and that planned media shift stinks! Yet people continue to believe we are all in safe hands allowing unrepresentative psychopaths to rule over us. Get a fuckin' grip people, you have proven that you are so easily led you deserve to be led like the mindless sheep you are. Though if it wasn't for a number of responsible individuals threatening the lives of Trump and his deep state handlers, nuclear war and Russiagate would still be making headlines.

I leave you all to your media-lobotomised fate; fair dinkum, what a tragic scenario for the western world, and if you are unable to fathom exactly to what I refer, it's YOU, you indescribably stupid NOSE-RINGED, morons.

Have a nice media-led day, vacuum-heads.

