

The BIG LIE Factory

The level of trust in our media 'information' systems is plummeting faster than the temperature in an Arctic winter and for very good reason. The mass media is owned and controlled by oligarchs and billionaire plutocrats that take pride in their ability to guide the cultural consciousness in whichever direction THEY collectively choose. However, when that machine breaks, as it has since the BIG LIE of 9/11 (external 'terrorists') and Iraq WMD, continuing illegal invasions based on now transparent pretexts, which blatant media propaganda facilitated. Consider the utter destruction of Iraq, Libya, Afghanistan, Yemen, Sudan, the Yugoslavian state, Syria etc etc, based on LIES (now exposed) though the list of ruined nations goes on and on.

Today we are able to clearly see the lies and criminality of these unnecessary wars of resource theft and mass murder, the perpetrators are clearly heinous CRIMINALS, though the media chooses and fashions stories like a sculptor for public consumption; nevertheless, when too many false media stories/lies become widely known people begin to lose trust in the LYING MACHINE, which formulates cultural consciousness in the modern era. The handful of nefarious individuals that own this machine have good reason to worry.

The ratio of social (truth) awareness or loss of trust in this instance is proportional to the level of social awareness and intelligence in the population. The most educated are therefore most aware and lose trust first then very slowly -- too slowly -- the rest follow, today only morons believe in the media today, but there is no shortage of morons in any population and that is the problem. This disadvantaged group is driven (easily) by their emotions, not reason or intellectual and sharp cognitive facilities, which they lack due to their underprivileged status in society, most cannot afford good educations for their children, it's as simple as that, hence they are a great resource for police, military, and factory fodder, ignorant slaves in other words, through no fault of their own.

However, the WORLD can no longer afford to wait for the less aware to wake up, though the truth (always mixed with the lies) about everything, is freely available in the public domain, though morons prefer to watch Miley Cyrus poking her crotch and tongue at cameras and audiences, a very sad state of affairs.

The relatively large and increasing percentage of aware people since 9/11 must now join forces and act in unison to expose the FRAUDS and mega-wealthy ruling elites, that care little for anything else but profits and the power that affords. We have all noted how this group today has engineered and uses 'debt slavery' in order to reduce the time available to average citizens to do anything but keep those noses just above the water line.

From the mega-banks, large corporations to their affiliate media, military, police and agency arms, the ruling elite today have it sewn up, as recent history since 9/11 verifies. However, when national puppet leaders begin to threaten nuclear war in order to eliminate any force/nation the elites are unable to control, then all lives on the planet are threatened. The recent rants of psychologically unstable puppet Trump clearly indicate that his handlers have no empathy or sense outside their own monetary interests, they are so involved with their own machinations they forget to weigh the consequences for them by threatening an UNNECESSARY nuclear holocaust -- readers would note if you haven't already that China has pledged to protect North Korea if western forces attack first 'pre-emptively', this would involve Russia due to the military alliance between both powerful nations, the result of course would be WWII, and a dead planet; now appreciate that these threats ON ALL OUR LIVES were made until very recently and are beginning to INCREASE in frequency again, so much for the sanity of the oligarchs and plutocratic ruling elites. At least it becomes plain that this tiny nefarious group of mass murdering criminals are plainly nuts, psychopaths in other words, and eliminating them and their political puppets has now become an IMPERATIVE, unless of course you feel happy about an unnecessary nuclear holocaust.

In fact it now becomes a REAL DO or DIE survival story for the global population, and NOTE that these elites have already established five-star nuclear shelters throughout the world, but YOU'RE NOT INVITED!

The lunatic mathematicians and other paid 'experts' have informed them that enough people would survive such a holocaust to assist in rebuilding a totalitarian world after such a war, ridiculous, as no-one is able to predict the outcome of such an event, these experts merely and understandably told the people that paid them what they wanted to hear, such is the natural bias of paid 'experts'/servants. Of course it would never run the way it's supposed to, as a real nuclear war, obviously involves launching all weapons against the perceived 'enemy' that would in turn launch all their nuclear weapons in a retaliatory response.

There are currently approximately 7 billion people on the planet, however, the entire ruling elite consists of only a few thousand world-wide with a core group of only a few hundred, which are known in the public domain, not surprisingly they mostly consist of the world's mega-banker families and their servants.

So what would you, take the unnecessary risk of the insane status quo of perpetual war or take REMEDIAL ACTION NOW and eliminate the problem altogether? There are already enough highly skilled AWARE experts to easily accomplish the necessary task. We MUST all do what we can NOW and understand these elites are useless as they buy everything they need, they own the presses that print all currencies world-wide. Individually, they are USELESS, easily eliminated, blood-sucking PARASITES.

A previous contributor to this site referred to an Irish adage, which runs, "never believe anything you hear and only half of what you see." I would add, believe NOTHING that issues from the corporate mass media, in fact avoid it altogether. There are numerous sources of credible information today.
