(to sandie)

'i was born to luv u,'

words that carry
the depth of my soul
the enduring commitment of my heart,
i know no other way
but to luv
You

few know how to luv
and release themselves in its infinite sea -
too busy pursuing mirages
and gratifying transient
desires,
fools
miss life's
most valuable treasure

there is no greater tragedy than to be human and deprive urself of love

whether fear, greed or narcissism prevent self-sacrifice is irrelevant if luv is shunned
one may as well not have been born miserable beggars of the soul beyond pity are those that reject life's most previous Gift

easily identified as perverse, sick they are
devoid of luv
devoid of heart
devoid of soul

do not deceive urself, u cannot luv and harm another or lie and manipulate or seek personal gratification at another's expense if u are true to luv luv embraces everything and everyone unconditionally it carries all

in its bosom

endless is its wonder and continuous is its bounty,
no other way offers
total fulfilment

i loved you before creation churned the ocean of existence, before the cosmos
came into being

luv has overwhelmed me
no vestige of identity
remains
nothing exists but luv
the entire universe
is transformed --
born to luv
created for luv

it was not chance
that brought us together,
'i was born to luv
