

Sanctions and Embargos -- the PEOPLE Pay NOT the Elites and Politicians

by justin Tuesday, Sep 26 2017, 4:56am

international / prose / post

The North Korean leadership has declared at the UN that the USA has effectively declared war on their nation. True, no doubt, as sanctions and embargos are criminal blackmail, COERCION in a word; and when states attempt to coerce other states it is simply an act of WAR.

Consider the embargos that killed over 500,000 INNOCENT Iraqi children, which the then Sec. of State, Madam Albright considered "worth it!" The sane world has since been asking 'worth what,' you lunatic bitch. But Albright was a puppet of the deep state which nefarious unrepresentative group has no consideration whatsoever for innocent human lives including yours.

It should have been clear then that America was in the grip of psychopathic, mass murdering elites, but no, Americans refused to wake to the fact. Today the same tactics have been employed by the Trump admin and the puppet UN, but still no response from the overwhelming GLOBAL masses, which are ONE in their predicament -- ALL should know by now that sanctions and embargos only hurt the people not the politicians or background ruling elites. However, it seems the masses remain in the grip of the 'perception management' fiction machine known as the (privately owned) mass media, which avoids truth and reality like the plague. Nevertheless, reality as always, remains in tact, and so North Korea spelled it out, the US and its UN puppet have effectively declared war on NK -- true as history confirms.

Now surely after recent history the penny would/should have dropped with the global population but NO, they sit back consuming evermore lies, distortions and misrepresentations from the fiction/propaganda machine. When it is known that it is the people that bare the full brunt of sanctions and embargos, as if the elites of any nation would deprive themselves. SO, the USA and UN have effectively declared war on the innocent people of NK, which is a crime, not that law flouting America could give a damn. So if NK launches a nuclear missile on the US or any of its allies, should we be surprised, not likely?

War has many weapons and one historically recorded such weapon is 'starving them out,' today translated in innocuous terms like 'sanctions' and 'embargos.' You see how far human beings have advanced since times before Christ, not an iota?

Though in general people know better, as it is they that suffer. So why do they not, as the overwhelming force they are (if unified), remove their corrupt, criminal, minority-serving governments? That surely is the 64 million dollar question, as it is clear that no-one has ever given a damn about the PEOPLE.

So it becomes obvious that the people are an alienated MAJORITY which at any moment could overwhelm the minorities in power. So why do they fail to act? Indeed, many have answers but no solutions, however, I would spell it out, off with their heads, that simple! The masses need unrepresentative rulers like they need holes in their heads, simple as the rain.

The solution to most of the world's problems is simply a unified action away. When the masses decide to overthrow the mass murdering criminal elites is anyone's guess, as it is well OVERDUE. Criminal, mass murdering minorities have no chance against the population of ANY nation, simple fact -- wake up, die or remain enslaved, YOUR choice -- as is evident I have clearly made mine, you unaware chicken shits. And never forget that a slave is worthy of his/her chains.

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2896.html>