Rex Tillerson infuriated Trump by accurately portraying him as what he is, a MORON! Now, a personality flawed, ignorant narcissist cannot stand for this type of truthful revelation/appellation though the entire civilised world OUTSIDE the US is aware of the fact.

Sec.of State, Rex Tillerson -- who said what?

Trump who is known to do anything, including threatening genocide, to maintain his presence in the media -- there's no such thing as bad publicity, remember -- is not pissed because he is depicted as a moron, he is pissed because someone dared to attack his over-inflated ego, which carries with it the thinnest skin imaginable, also widely known.

Now comes the reality; what is a personality flawed moron that has trouble locating his naval fleets, naming nations, and other numerous public demonstrations of his breathless IGNORANCE doing as president of the USA? Indeed, that is a question worth asking though it is easily answered. Now consider that morons in general cannot identify each other as morons, instead they say he is one of us, as such he is a great guy -- LOL -- hence Trump's position remains intact for the moment. The majority of US citizens that support Trump are of course morons, most of whom can't locate Fiji, Hungary or Switzerland on the map let alone name their capitals, and there you have it, the perfect president for a perfect MORON nation, morons pandering to and supporting each other, as of course it's human nature never to think anything other than the best of one's PATHETIC self.

Meanwhile the world laments the USA as China and Russia with other sane, practical and pragmatic nations begin to overtake the USA in every major area of expertise; but don't dare tell that to star-spangled MORONS as they see only what their limited minds are able to see and comprehend.
