

A Little Reminder

by sandie Monday, Dec 17 2012, 11:39am

international / prose / post

Remember, it's not Drones or guns that kill people, it's people that kill people!

Indeed, we have the WORLD'S most HYPOCRITICAL political leader lamenting the massacre of children in Newtown while he presides over the horrendous child casualty rate of his expanded Drone warfare campaign -- killing children by remote means is killing them just as dead as any American shooter.

The world learns from the obvious first, the above offenders are Americans, products of the same perverse criminal culture.

History records that native Americans were appalled when they witnessed white 'Christians' brutally beating Indian children in mission and government 'schools.' Corporal punishment of children is foreign to native cultures and even where 'shame' punishments occur major tribal taboos must first be broken.

So what has really changed since the brutal early colonization of America, NOTHING, the USA remains the undisputed child killing leader of the world; a distinction of which the nation can truly be 'proud.'

Since the abuse of native Americans, African slaves through to the Atomic blasts on TWO civilian cities in Japan, the fire bombing of Dresden and the carpet bombing of Indo-China, the situation has only deteriorated.

Recent criminal killings in Iraq, Pakistan, and Afghanistan make all previous efforts look tame -- no other species is sick enough or perverse enough to abuse and kill its young so callously and brutally, well done America!

Anyone that falls for Obama's feigned grief is simply soft in the head or extremely gullible, as this is the same man who knowingly launches Hellfire missiles from UAV Drones that kill countless innocent children/civilians.

There is no single solution for curing a profoundly sick culture, however, eliminating criminally corrupt leaders, bought politicians and restoring the integrity of the legal system is a very good start. Gun control is merely an ineffective diversionary tactic.

Australia enforced strict gun controls after a civilian massacre in Tasmania only to see a huge explosion in the number of illegal concealable hand guns. It's a cultural problem that is immune to a regulatory knee-jerk 'fix.' Strict enforcement of secure gun cabinets with approved locking devices is a proven deterrent and preventative measure. However, a healthy cultural mindset -- not glorifying torture, flagrant Hollywood LIES and overt war propaganda -- is the only effective and lasting cure.

<http://www.commondreams.org/view/2012/12/17-3>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-302.html>