

The SHOCK of the STUPID and Divorced from Reality

by pat Sunday, Dec 10 2017, 9:28pm

international / prose / post

Prior to Trump the only leaders that made absurd outlandish divorced from reality remarks were the leaders of North Korea, though as we know, most of those claims and remarks were ignored due to their implausibility and 'out-there' nature. However, when a US president engages in ridiculous claims, lies, morbid sensitivity and 'out-there' language, the effect is shock as people expect those 'keepers' surrounding the president to explain things and moderate any pathological, volatile irrational outbursts -- but as the world is aware, no such moderation exists in relation to Trump. Trump, though completely enslaved by the deep state, is allowed to take the prize for the world's leading imbecile leader, the deep state knows he has no effect whatsoever on their agenda and plans. But what of the rest of the world?

Before plunging into the whys and wherefores, I should state that SHOCK works to effect changes in human behaviour, especially if based on irrationality, paradoxes, contradictions, absurdity and everything else that DOESN'T make sense. Indeed this is essentially WHY shock works to paralyse reason and render those effected to un-reason and the absurd; Trump unknowingly is the catalyst for this process and the turmoil he creates suits those in real power in the USA. Trump's disorientation, stupidity and unpredictable pathological nature, which would normally disqualify him from ANY responsible post or office, serves to confuse and disorientate.

The entire world reels after each of Trump's imbecilic outbursts or stupid actions, the latest is support of Jerusalem as capital of Israel, a completely unnecessary, ultra-provocative stupidity, however, as the US president has more impact on the world than leaders of North Korea, effects are felt world-wide.

Consider that Trump would never have reached half-way in his leadership bid in any other country, as he is totally unqualified for the job, now proven to the mindless American masses. Nevertheless, the fact that he has not been removed from power by the usual American means, which include a bullet in the head, is astounding, which translates to, the powers SUPPORT him. And as we should be aware, no rational reason exists for this support, EXCEPT SHOCK value, behind which all manner of lunatic plans and strategies could be undertaken. For instance the preparation for a 'limited' (in your dreams) nuclear war, which the elite view as their saving card in the failing economic and strategic sense. Make no mistake, the global economy is living on life support and fantasy money based on speculation, NOT production, it cannot persist! The world is more unstable today politically and economically than at any other time in recent history, including the turmoil prior to WWI and WWII. In plain words everything is going to hell in a hand-basket.

However, what is the mass media -- the medium for the primary social discourse -- focused on, imbecile Trump and his utterly irrational and morally deplorable behaviour? Is this PERSISTENT focus accidental? Not likely, as Korean leaders and other idiots were only given minimum attention in the past, but Trump today IS the NEWS, so complete is the fascination OR intention.

After analysing a range of plausible explanations as to why this idiot remains in power, SHOCK and its associated disruption effect stand out.

It would be too much to ask or force the elite owned mass media to regain perspective so, in order to avoid the 'shock effect,' think in terms of INTENTION and who benefits and free yourselves from the created hysteria. We could of course go one better, which would be REGAIN control of your Republic and democracy according to founding documents which allow for the people to LEGALLY oust dangerous governments that are likely to ruin the nation. However, we are also aware that the American masses are media-nosed-ringed, obedient and easily manipulated, mindless slaves. And so do your pathetic, shocked best doodles and US vassal states.

The current lunatic American and international REALITY could never exist in a sane, responsible world. Now what does that reality portend for the future? Nothing sane, constructive or good, of that be assured.

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-3045.html>