

The Screams ... of the murdered, tortured and abused innocents stack like crystals that form in fluids saturated with vileness, greed and selfishness

the screaming crystal pillars formed penetrate our atmosphere and reach the heavens where they are heard by everything that exists in this fluid cosmos space is a medium that carries every movement, thought and action in the forever, the laws of which turn tirelessly to balance all discord and disharmony and so there will be a reckoning, it is unavoidable if one is aware of the dynamics of continuous creation/perfection; the tiniest jot is accounted for how much more the senseless slaughter of millions of innocents and innocence?

woe to the arrogant few that serve discord and the vile, as your fate is sealed by your perverse thoughts and heinous actions if one innocent child's stolen life condemns you all what price is to be extracted from you and all your future generations? a fate far worse than anything you could imagine of that be assured, as the purging of many worlds has also been recorded, to be viewed by those with the single eye to see and read the signs the poisoned star-spangled banner and all that follow what it represents will be reduced to ash -- do you doubt it?
