its secret is a key to the multiverse,
infinite dimensions opening to the light of existence not constrained by any one dimension, it opens like a flower containing everything inside and outside, micro and macro which are one

are you able to conceive a nine dimensional prism? not likely as the human mind is of this third dimension and to enter other dimensions contained in the same space you must lose yourself to infinity, a simple yet impossible task for the trained, contained and disciplined according to the limitations of the feeble knowledge/minds of men conceptions, false knowledge which may build towers here do not apply to infinity only the tell-tale galactic spirals which appear here like a road sign indicating more, much more

follow the pulse, the sound as it continues as light of varying frequencies through space/continuity, life is not static, it's frenetic, hyper-kinetic as it fills the void with its joy continuously it laughs and dances at all the perversions of men and other beings trapped in their realms, indeed, the entirety is saturated with life, are you able to speak jupiterian or saturnian?

what issues from Life is life saturating All that which is beginningless is endless and so it dances and pulses forever expanding, while men imagine they live and die trapped in the third yet all life is able to connect to its source, The Life -- and so is revealed the vehicle -- what were you before the third imprisoned you with a name and identity to separate you from the whole?

Consciousness without content (unfettered) -- and therein lies

FREEDOM, birthless and deathless
