

Google's war on ART and culture -- Poetry only Site De-listed

by gwen Friday, Jan 4 2013, 11:40pm

international / prose / post

Google recently spent $25 million to influence the outcome of a US anti-trust inquiry into its proven unfair and monopolist practices, specifically, manipulating data searches. In any other nation, using money, promises or coercion to directly or indirectly influence the outcome of a regulator's inquiry into improper practices would be considered a serious crime but not in Corporate controlled America where corruption is systemic and hides behind tortured language, in this case, "lobbying!" Well, lobbying may be fine but when huge sums of money are utilised to buy favours and 'sway' a regulator's decision, we call it CRIMINAL CORRUPTION and a full inquiry should be instituted into the ENTIRE sordid AFFAIR!

Google received a token slap on the wrist for its gross improprieties and was not ordered to desist from future unfair, improper practices -- clearly, the money was well spent!

Everything in the financial world is relative and Google stands to recoup the funds it spent quickly and easily as it was allowed to continue its grossly biased, unfair practices. But it doesn't end in the corporate world of anti-competitiveness. Google has also been conducting an unpublicised war on alternative news, and other dissenting information sites. It should not be forgotten that its deviant former CEO, now chairperson, Eric Schmidt, regularly attends the secretive Bilderberg group meetings, so the outcome of the anti-trust case against it was assured for a number of very 'influential' but highly improper and corrupt reasons.

We have recently discovered that a poetry only site has been de-listed by Google philistines, but why should they care? Apparently due to its backlinks and affiliations with alternative news sites, though no stories are carried on the poetry site -- but a philistine is a culture immune brute so in with the hatchet.

I need not go into lengthy discourse on why poetry is extremely necessary and valuable to society; it adds the other dimension, creative 'doors' are flung open and society is treated to alternate appreciations of life, thought, REALITY, but Google and the Corporates that totally control the US and Washington, will have none of it, their only consideration is the mindless, maniacal and openly destructive appropriation of material wealth at any cost! ALL opposing views and forces must be neutralised otherwise the small minority of criminals that rule may find themselves hanging from ropes for the heinous crimes they have committed in the name of corporate PROFITS!

I shall not allude to the uncanny accuracy of prophet and writer, George Orwell, who makes Biblical prophets look truly inept; Orwell wrote in plain understandable language, the world he clearly described in the past is REALITY today and it's yet to culminate!

I speak as an artist and writer and would clearly state in conclusion that TOTALITARIAN corporate forces seeking to control society at large will never succeed in silencing the dissenting voice and creative spirit -- the brutes forget how they got here! As for the masses, they have truly earned their status as expendable beasts of burden and cowardly slaves.

True genius and highly creative talent has never been widely manifest. You forget too easily that we gave you everything, whatever you imagine you can do we can undo or do much better. Your war with us is doomed to failure though a little time must pass before the restoration of harmony is established, there are massive debts to pay and huge injustices to be addressed and resolved.

<http://leavespoetry.hopto.org/>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-330.html>