Reality is very sobering, like how does anyone hope to see peace when western leaders talk of nothing but war, division, aggression and conflict? Quite simply, PEACE is something earned by POPULATIONS not war mongering puppet leaders serving elites that profit from war, destruction and theft.

Until media content is saturated with millions of people prosecuting Peace throughout the world -- it can't happen as leaders CLEARLY are against it. It is that simple, either EARN Peace or allow yourselves to be SUBJECT to war, violence and social oppression for the benefit and safety of the very few.
