

The Criminal President

by judd Thursday, Jan 10 2013, 11:43pm

international / prose / post

A person that engages in extra-judicial (above the law) killing -- murder pure and simple -- is a criminal murderer and there is no white-washing the offence regardless of how much effort the German Nazis (historically) or the present American administration feebly apply-- no government has ever succeeded in subverting/circumventing universal LAWS for long.

Gerichtspräsident Freisler
„Verbrecher am Werk“

Nazi Judge - later executed

Barack Hussein Obama is a murderer by any legal definition -- any 'kill list' is anathema to the LAW. Obama, it should be noted, does not act alone, though he foolishly accepts final responsibility (fall guy) for others in the background -- plutocrats and oligarchs -- too cowardly, which is characteristic of murderers, to come out of the shadows.

Obama signs for the criminal decisions of others, he is a well trained willing uncle tom/servant to a white ruling elite but a complicit criminal nevertheless. This despicable character not only betrays his race and the American people, he betrays the nation and the principles upon which it was founded - I defy anyone on the planet to refer to a greater criminal and traitor today than Barack Obama.

He is the quintessential servile dog, he refuses no errand or order that his masters issue regardless of how heinous or criminally compromising to himself it may be, such is the measure of Obama's servility to the white ruling elite he serves.

A little diligent research not only verifies the above it also reveals the identities of the groups/forces that control Obama and western democracies today. A power coup has occurred in the western democratic world, which media channels have failed to cover because they are now owned by the forces that initiated the coup. Their power is being consolidated as I write with outrageous new totalitarian laws, like indefinite detention without trial or charge or illegal global surveillance on the entire population, etc. Yet the solution is at hand, peace, stability and equality are simply a vote or majority demand away -- the solution has never changed throughout history. The evil ruling filth and their servants must be eliminated/removed from power by any and all means available and a government reflecting the greater good for the MAJORITY and nation instituted, as per the commissions outlined in The Declaration of Independence.

The entire population has a duty and LEGAL responsibility to remove all criminals from high office and other areas of social importance.

The solution remains the same, reform and/or revolution. Take heart and defy the criminal forces that have hijacked our democracies -- vote local, vote majority representation or restore moral government via other means.

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-339.html>