

Serpent's Tail

there's no going back

when the mystic serpent injects its venom/soma into the centre of your brain opposing left and right hemispheres synchronise and begin to pulse in harmonic rhythm

joy overwhelms spirit and floods being
with delight;
the radiant sun's glory fades before the brilliance of this vision

the firmament with its studded array is shamed by shafts of shooting light issuing from a crystal skull drear no more eyes once exposed to the ineffable beauty of this landscape see only perfection

the diamond-mind transformed cannot return to its carbon past -- the world shudders in delight and trembles in ecstasy;

there is no going back to a world of shadows and the thick fog of ignorance but seizing a serpent by its tail requires practice and a rare skill
