

Knowledge

if every text or other inscription were destroyed tomorrow knowledge would not be lost

i have recorded the entirety of everything that is,
was, or ever could be for eternity - can u guess to which text i refer, it blazes before u?

u could no more
eliminate, pollute,
or despoil my creation
than i could allow it, ur arrogance is only matched by ur ignorance and stupidity, flea of my creation

do not trouble urselves over ruin or restoration the earth must project my consciousness as all creation projects me all parts refer to the whole, I AM my living creation every substance is mine nothing derived or otherwise formulated by u is poisonous to me - no mortal or created being is able to challenge or overcome that which created it, ur only hope of continuity/survival is to align urselves with my enduring harmony - defiance is a sure road to obliteration

life would sprout from fire or ice, as my creation manifests my will

wherever there is life, there find total knowledge every part reflects the whole and the whole is the sublime living, breathing, universe remember my response to my servant arjuna, who refused his duty

on the battlefield;
all life originates
and resolves itself in me u destroy, kill and create nothing i am the giver of life and i take it as i see fit
