

The Liberation of Uncertainty

international / poetry / post locate me

between
night and day
at dawn or dusk
where uncertainty
reigns --
where
day and night
momentarily
lose themselves
in each other's arms

those who know
find me at the edge,
on the cliffs
where sea laps the land, where horizon
marries sea and sky
where fissures
between space and time
offer portals
into other dimensions

find me in the uncertainty of existence where nothing is able to take hold or anchor itself,
find me in
pure freedom coursing
like a madman
in undefined space

categories cease to exist
form becomes void
and void is saturated
with existence

emptiness overflows
with Being,
continuity explodes into Ecstasy

find me there

swirling
inward outward
who can tell?

no Truth or ignorance
no failure or attainment
no identity
no fear

find me with the Gods
in concert with creation
spinning dreams
weaving realities

locate me where space disappears

nowhere, now-here
pure terror for conservatives
but paradise
for radicals
