

Steps

by beau Monday, Apr 15 2013, 10:25am international / poetry / post a truckload of cares is removed with each step walking

thru time, space and memory only knowing - things - when moving

walking
thru the past which appears as a carousel of images strangely detached from the present

walking
moving in this world and others,
'and how r u today?'
glints the old lady watering her flower-garden neighbours nod, strangers smile women fix their gaze on something i am not aware of it happens so often i check to see if my fly is undone or whether that pleasant feeling in my groin is the wind blowing over my glans or some strange alien from outer-space sucking my cock but it's the walking that is pleasant step by step 10K a day, i have yet to calculate how many kilometres over a year how did i arrive at this point?

step by step
there r no shortcuts i wasted many years looking for American shortcuts

but no safe
avenues presented,
America is doomed
the expedient course is fraught with danger, signposts all point to ruin deliberate steps open wide horizons presenting numerous alternatives and viable options

cocaine gratification and short-term thinking, destroyed the global economy and amputated a successful future as the world races to its inevitable destiny it's the walkers that will build

the new world

*[step by solid step allowed China to rise to superpower status in a few decades while hedonists
and short-term thinkers prepare a grave for America]*

🔊 New Beginning - Tracy Chapman

<http://tinyurl.com/chr55tg>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-493.html>