This secretive group of the world's elite are gathering to determine future trends and to solve the many problems the world faces today -- BUT LET'S NOT FORGET THAT IT IS PRECISELY THIS GROUP THAT CREATED ALL THE PROBLEMS THE WORLD FACES TODAY! Expect no viable solutions from PROVEN DUNCES, that is common sense. The best approach we could take with those attending this notorious group is to shoot the fuckin' lot of 'em before they do more harm (you think I jest?)

The famed—and much derided—Bilderberg Group is meeting this week in Britian to discuss whatever it is the world's super elite discuss at their secretive annual gatherings.

Held this year at the five star Grove Hotel near Watford, England, the 61st Bilderberg Group meeting will host some of the world's most powerful individuals—including heads of banks, fossil fuel company CEOs, former heads of state, powerful government ministers and officials, academics, and media moguls.

Among certain notable attendees, IMF Chief Christine Lagarde is attending this year's meeting as well as US Treasury Secretary Timothy Geithner, (Ret.) US Army General David Petraeus, former US Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin, former Nixon adviser and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, and Bush-era neoconservative titan Richard Perle.

Long shrouded in secrecy, the Bilderberg Group has long been the focus of conspiracy theorists who look on the cadre of global elites as the puppet masters of the "new world order."

As it turns out, however, the group's likely deliberations have always been rather obvious given that the power structures and policy prescriptions of the neoliberal consensus that its attendees represent are well known to the world.

This year, though they didn't fail to double down on security efforts around the meeting, Bilderberg did set up a press office and even put out a media release.

But, as is often said when it comes to the machinations of power, the largest crimes of authority are not those hidden in dark rooms, but the ones perpetrated—without apology—in plain sight.

If one is looking for the crimes of Bilderberg, the full list of this year's attendees includes the institutions, governments, and organizations represented:
