

Lobotomy Pill

I recall the first occasion I heard about lobotomy pills; it was at a party for 'social managers' and some Madison Ave consultants. I immediately thought the joke was on me but remembered the muted, condescending smiles that appeared on some faces.

Well, today I am convinced that Lobotomy Pills, or their equivalent, actually exist; how else could any sane person explain the ready acceptance of Obama's "red line" ruse on Syria, which allows for expanding intervention by the US.

It was only yesterday the stale fraudulent WMD ruse was used to DUPE the American population and facilitate the ILLEGAL invasion of Iraq. But of course, one of the primary features of lobotomy intervention is the loss of memory and the ability for rational thought. With that said, the best is yet to be come; Obama wishes to arm rebel forces which have in their ranks al-Qaeda fighters (the sworn enemy of the USA) and other affiliated jihadist groups -- great policy decision, Baa'rack; but the world is aware Obama does what he is told by the Plutocrats!

However, as has been reported, Obama is not alone on this policy, Republican John 'bomb Iran' McCain, thinks it's a wonderful idea, "for Christ's sake," as HE characteristically expresses it! Then Bill O'Reilly chimes in on the moron Letterman show and says nonchalantly that the US must get rid of Syrian president Assad -- but the law hasn't changed, regime change is, and was always an illegal act!

Now, empty-heads, there comes a time when those that are able to think and recall what happened yesterday, become tired of constantly repeating themselves to a bunch of vacuum-headed morons that barely know what day it is, so rather than continue the analysis, allegory and commentary I will leave you to enjoy living in a Police State that was also implemented while you weren't looking -- give me a break you yankee doodle dreamboats!

Believing that proven black LIAR, who has reneged on all his promises, is beyond belief!
