

Snowden: Beijing not biting

Tell us something we don't know!

It seems attempts by the inept and rustic USA to plant a double agent in Chinese ranks is failing (miserably) Beijing is NOT biting; after all, the Chinese wrote the book; so intel geniuses in the US are applying a little more ointment in the vain hope that Beijing might bite, fat chance, the Chinese culture wasn't born yesterday like you rustic, criminal, doodle (moron) dandies!

But first let's take another look at the known reality.

The NSA has been globally vacuuming analogue and digital data since it was invented, has no-one heard of 'echelon' and 'carnivore?' Today with inexpensive storage and 'cloud computing' the obvious next phase was to grab and store everything and review it when necessary -- legality, as usual, has nothing to do with it.

So what exactly did Snowden reveal that wasn't already known and in the public domain? Sweet FA is what, fuck all! Now we have desperate attempts to portray Snowden as the genuine article; his father has made a PUBLIC plea (strange) to his son NOT to reveal any 'more' secrets! What fuckin' secrets, I would really like to know, at least Assange had material that was classified as semi-secret, but to date, including the latest Q&A mediated by an orthodox mass media outlet, Snowden has revealed nothing of any shattering import.

How about some incontrovertible proof that 9/11 was a false flag -- that would certainly blow the lid, or perhaps material revealing that JFK was assassinated by internal executive order, or more recently, the identities of the men that sat around a table and planned criminal military interventions and assassinations from the Balkans to Syria AND not to forget the Corporate-serving 'permanent war' ideology, which is responsible for the highest ever military suicide rate in recorded history. The list is endless, YET precious little information of substance in the form of mind blowing or other shattering revelations, has been seen. But keep trying 'merika, you fifth rate dunces. At this rate you may evolve into a sophisticated culture in FIVE thousand years.

Naomi Wolf, feminist author and activist, has intuited that something smells and its not her cognitive cunt, her deductions/reasons are way off base; stick to female intuition, woman, it's working fine -- and you need a follow-up piece to sort the likes of Dave Lindorff and his non-cognitive dick. [Thinking cunts, what next?]

Postscript:

Enough real evidence of the heinous criminality of ruling plutocrats exists to cause a Revolution in the USA. If you wish to gain credibility spill enough compromising data on the core criminal group to cause irreversible OUTRAGE in the community -- USS Liberty is only one example, it targets the main offenders, Mossad and the US cabal. Even Assange did better and his efforts amounted to nothing -- spill it if you have it or go fuck yourself, Ed, you pathetic double agent.
