

'The Himalayan Angle' and the Repercussions for Australia

This piece, by Wayne Madsen, concerns Australia as it confirms that Oz will be used as a platform by America in a very likely (read on) future conflict with China -- Australians can thank treasonous Gillard for signing over FIVE (5) nuclear capable US bases to be constructed on our soil and allowing our ports to be used by nuclear armed US Navy vessels, from which -- it is becoming more obvious by the day -- America would launch attacks on China.

Treasonous, Howard, Rudd and Gillard

Of course China would respond with counter or retaliatory attacks on AUSTRALIA, how very convenient for America!

The degree of parliamentary TREASON in Canberra can now be measured by the degree to which some Oz politicians are subservience to the criminal machinations of Washington -- all of which constitute grave threats to Oz.

Oz can thank treasonous Gillard, Howard and Rudd for selling the country down the drain and allowing it to become a nuclear target for NO GOOD REASON whatsoever!

All Oz leaders that comply with Washington are CLEARLY traitors and treasonous lackeys to foreign powers. Future trials of these individuals would be swift and sure. Need I spell out that the foremost duty/consideration of Parliamentary Representatives is the welfare of the People, and to maintain NATIONAL SECURITY and NOT to compromise it in the interests of ANY FOREIGN power! For Christ's fuckin' sake, CANBERRA, what do you people think you are doing behind the tissue-thin scenes?

"Israel's interests in the Himalayan region are murky. Several thousands of ethnic Mizo, Kuki, and Chins peoples in India's northeast claim to be Jews, the Bnei Menashe, descendant from one of the so-called «Lost Tribes» of Old Testament folklore. In fact, Jewish proselytizers appeared in the region in the 1980s and began poaching Christian Mizos, Kukis, and Chins for conversion to Judaism in order to extend Israel's political influence in the region and recruit new settlers to occupy Israel's ill-gotten territories in the Middle East.

The claims of the Bnei Menashe are, therefore, specious. However, many thousands have emigrated to Israel after being declared «Jewish» by some rabbinical authorities and they are being moved into West Bank settlements to supplant Palestinians. Other Bnei Menashe remain in northeast India, where they give religious cover to many thousands of Israeli Mossad and Israel Defense Force personnel, most said to be former or reserve IDF members, who have become more and more active in the entire Himalayan region, particularly around the Tibetan government-in-exile community in Dharamsala, India. Kibbutzes and Chabad facilities are springing up all over northeastern India, all run by Israeli nationals, many with ties to Israeli intelligence and military branches. Israel has helped establish in Mizoram a political party, the Ephraim Union, which advocates conversion of all Mizos to Judaism and the establishment of a Jewish independent state in Mizoram. It claims India's sovereignty over Mizoram was only to continue for ten years after India's independence from Britain in 1947. In the 2008 election for the Indian Lok Sabha lower house of parliament, the party received a mere 1.87 percent of the vote.

Israel has obvious designs on other parts of the region. A Hindu political party, Panun Kashmir, which demands a separate Hindu state among the majority of Muslims in the Valley of Kashmir, suspiciously uses a white Star of David on its orange flag.

It is also no coincidence that Israel is now India's second largest supplier of weapons. Mizoram, the location of many Bnei Menashe, is also the location of the Counter Insurgency and Jungle Warfare School (CIJW) in Vairengte where Indian, American, Israeli, Bhutanese, Nepali, and other allied special operations personnel jointly train in military operations.

RAW, the CIA, and Mossad are equally active in increasingly fragmented Nepal, where the priority has been to limit the political power of the Maoist political party. From primarily Buddhist Gilgit-Baltistan in Pakistan's far north to Buddhist Ladakh in Kashmir, to Sikkim and Bhutan, and further east into Myanmar, there is a grab for influence between various parties that have committed to either side in a forthcoming Asia-wide conflict between the West and China."
